Plaza To Undergo Expansion; Add Parking Facilities

By Karen L. Day

Gordon Bloom, owner of the Shawsheen Plaza buildings, plans to expand the DeMoulas Supermarket and and to add 75 new parking spaces.

Although some paper work is yet to be done and many of the plans will be subject to the approval of various town boards, Bloom is optimistic that his plans for the plaza will make the plaza a "stronger, more viable center."

Commenting that most supermarkets now run between 35,000 and 40,000 square feet, Bloom plans on expanding the DeMoulas building by 8,000 square feet.

Half of the space will be added by the moving of the drugstore. The other 4,000 square feet will come from an addition to be constructed at the rear of the building.

Also in the rear of DeMoulas will be an additional parking area for 75 cars. Bloom has been monitoring employee parking and hopes that employees will be the users of the new rear lot, freeing up valuable spaces in the front lot for the customers.

According to Bloom, part of the present parking problems arose from the replacement of a deli by Grassfields. With the sit-down meal atmosphere, people are taking up spaces for longer periods of time than they used to.

Ciro's Bakery has moved out of the plaza. That space and the space now rented by the Forget-Me-Not Flower Shop, which will be vacated just after the first of the year, will be taken over by Rite-Aid Corporation, to be used for a large drugstore.

Inducted

Janice Gable, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Gable of Andover, was one of the 12 students inducted into Middlebury College's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa after three years of study at the college. The induction took place on one of the Parents' Weekends. The Middlebury College Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa is the Beta of Vermont, established in 1868. Students at Middlebury College are elected to Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of outstanding academic achievement in all fields of their endeavor, with special consideration given to the attainment of honors or high honors in the major department.

Forum On Report Scheduled

There will be an open forum at the main building of the Lawrence Public Library on "Growing Up Hispanic in Lawrence, Massachusetts," the report prepared by the Lawrence High School/Phillips Academy Urban Studies Institute, on Monday, Nov. 24, at 7:15 p.m. All interested Greater Lawrence citizens are welcome to this discussion of issues raised by the report and are invited to contribute experience or concerns of their own on the topic.

The open forum is sponsored by the LHS/PA Urban Studies Institutes, several of whose participants and researchers will be present. Refreshments will be served.

Film Series Continues On Cable

The Potpourri Film Series on Cable TV Channel 11 will feature "The Glassmakers of Herat" tonight at 7 p.m.

The Andover Cable Advisory Committee sponsors this film series, showing 30-minute films at four different times every week: Mondays at 10 a.m.; Tuesdays at 2 p.m.; Wednesdays at 4 p.m.; Thursdays at 7 p.m.

"Forest in the balance—A Fight Against Time" will be shown next week, November 24-27. This film documents integrated pest control in forest management.

All-Night Parking Ban To Begin December 1

The winter all-night parking ban will go into effect December 1 and continue through April 1.

The law prohibits on-street parking for more than one hour from 1 a.m. to 6 p.m. during this period. The ban is primarily to facilitate snow removal operations during the winter months and will be enforced by the police department beginning Monday, Dec. 1.

Presented Awards For Excellence

At the School Committee meeting Tuesday evening, Superintendent Kenneth Seifert presented Lynn Brocklesby and Katherine Pearson with Certificates of Academic Excellence.

Seifert stated that presenting these awards is "an honor because our youth are often accused of not paying their dues," but that these students prove that accusation false.

Smoking Policy Discussion Pleasing

After meeting with student leaders at Andover High School on the issue of student smoking policy, School Committeemen Richard Neal and Donald Robb reported back to the rest of the committee that they were pleased with the outcome of the students debating of the topic.

According to Neal, students at the high school seem to be "heading toward the goal of a non-smoking high school," and he recommended that the committee support them.

Neal also suggested that the committee discuss having one student leader chosen to sit as a non-voting member at school committee meetings, providing the committee with valuable insights and ideas. The discussion will be conducted at the next meeting of the committee.

To Discuss Special Needs Program

On Monday, Dec. 1, a meeting of those interested in the examination of the Special Needs educational program in Andover will be held. School Committee Chairman Michael Giamusso and committee member Susan Poore will be present.

Although they are ready to make recommendations as to who will serve on the actual Advisory Committee for 766, Giamusso hopes to involve anyone who is interested.

Honored

North Andover resident Barbara E. Young was recently honored at an awards ceremony in Danvers for her 15 years of service to The Hunt Hospital.

Mrs. Young, department manager of materials management, received the service to Humanity Award of the American Hospital Association.

Puppets On Parade Set

Saturday, Dec. 6, marks the first event in Kaleidoscope's sixth annual Winter Performance Series for children. Two puppet shows will be held at West Elementary School, Beacon Street, Andover.

Marcy Chruchill, director of The Puppet Showplace in Brookline, brings her Cranberry Puppets to the stage for children ages three and up. The ever-popular "Gingerbread Story" and an original tale, "The Devil in the Pumpkin Patch," will be performed. Both stories are specifically designed for a preschool audience and involve clever, gentle characters. (No children under three, please.)

The 3 p.m. show, recommended for elementary school children and parents, is "Dynasty IV: Prime Time in Egypt," a production of the Poobley Greegy Puppet Theatre. The story, loosely based on "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," concerns an elementry-school class learning about ancient Egypt. Extraordinary things occur when the teacher is called out of the room. Educational as well as entertaining, the show includes original music, a richly painted set, gorgeous shadow puppets and a gigantic talking sphinx.

Tickets are available at the door or by calling Janis Baron, the director, between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays. Brochures detailing the entire winter series are available from local libraries or by writing Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810.

Kaleidoscope is a non-profit educational and cultural program which offers this series in cooperation with the Andover Department of Community Services.

More than 200 area children and their parnts recently attended "Kid Safe," a special child safety program for children ages 5 to 12, at Lawrence General Hospital. Above, Peter Cole of North Andover, director of communications and security at the hospital, teaches children emergency telephone calling procedures. The program, made possible by the Merrimack Valley United Fund, also provided hands-on training in first aid, fire safety, personal safety, babysitting and, for children 10 and older, CPR. Members of the LGH staff and Andover and North Andover police and fire departments volunteered their time to teach the classes.

Mammoth Cave, Kentucky's immense series of underground caverns formed by the action of ground water on limestone formations, was reputed discovered by a hunter in 1799.

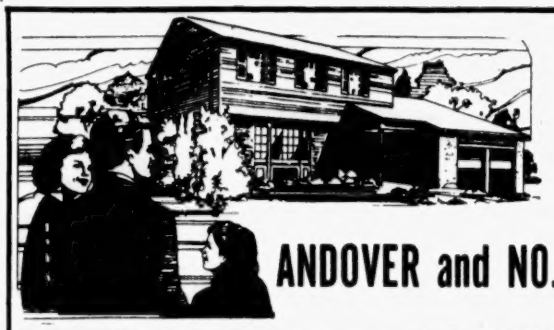

Implications Of War Toys To Be Discussed At Session

North Andover People for Peace invite the public to join in discussion, "Dealing with War Toys and Toys of Violence," on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. at North Parish Church, Old North Andover Center.

Panelists Diane Derby, social worker and parent of Andover; Linnea Gershenberg, early childhood coordinator and parent of Andover; and Mary McCormick, child psychologist and parent of North Andover, will present various aspects and viewpoints. "Toys of violence make aggressive behavior appear to be the solution for dealing with problems in life, turning violent behavior into a game," said Derby. Gersenberg added, "Adults are responsible for passing on the culture and, therefore, determining the attitudes toward violence that children will soon put into effect."

North Andover People for Peace was organized early in 1985 with the purpose of keeping the local public informed on the scientific, political, psychological and moral issues of the nuclear arms race and generate support for peace and justice with membership who are students, fathers, mothers, grandmothers, grandfathers, teachers, journalists, ministers, social workers, all striving to make this a more peaceful planet.

Admission to the discussion is free and refreshments will be served. For more information, contact Marcia Mason DeRosa in Methuen, Connie Glore in Boxford or Ed Meagher in North Andover.

Employees Join Smokeout

The employees of Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen will participate in the 10th annual Great American Smokeout, the nationwide event sponsored by the American Cancer Society, on Thursday, Nov. 20. Nonsmokers will assist smokers in quitting by "adopting" a smoker for the Smokeout, providing special survival kits and lots of moral support.

"It is important that smokers quit for this one day in order to believe that they do not need cigarettes and to prove to themselves they're capable of giving up cigarettes for at least a day," explains Carolyn Perrault, R.N., B.S.N., patient, family and community health education coordinator. All smokeout activities have been planned by a committee of employees comprised of smokers and nonsmokers.

Bon Secours' Kindly Care Bear will tour the hospital handing out lollipops to smokers to help curb their urge for cigarettes. To assist those who wish to permanently kick the habit, Bon Secours eduction department will hold a free "Fresh Start" program for employees and their families.

Fresh Start is a six-part smoking cessation program designed by the American Cancer Society. The program will give participants an opportunity to meet, talk about their smoking habit and lend each other support in their efforts to kick their nicotine habit. Smokers will learn the physiology of their habit, relaxation techniques and nutritious snacks for appetite control. The classes will be held twice a day so employees on all three shifts may participate.

The goal of the employee Smokeout committee is to provide support and encouragment to all employees and their family members who want to quit smoking.

Samaritans Elect New Officers

Christine H. Young, 60 Whittier St., Andover Lawrence Eagle-Tribune lifestyle reporter and food editor, was elected president of the board of directors of the Samaritans of Merrimack Valley at the organization's annual meeting at Di-Burro's Restaurant.

The Samaritans, 55 Jackson St., Lawrence, is one of 10 branches of the international organization that combats suicide by providing a 24-hour telephone service for the lonely and despairing. The organization of volunteers also has a speaker's bureau and offers workshops and talks for community groups.

Other board officers elected are Helene Desjarlais, marketing manager for Merrimack Repertory Theatre, Lowell; George Carifio, an officer with Bank of Boston, Burlington; and Rose Coppinger, director of the Point After Club in Lawrence, a drop-in center for deinstitutionalized mental patients.

Robert Henderson, president of Andover Savings Bank, is a new board member.

Other Andover people serving on the board are Margot Porter, artist and teacher; Alan Solomont, director of Academy Manor Nursing Home; Dr. Henry Everett, chief of psychiatry at Lawrence General Hospital and a private practioner in Andover; and Edgar Johnson, a science teacher at Andover High School.

Christine H. Young

The Samaritans are partially funded by the Merrimack Valley United Fund.

Business Workshop Offered

Small business owners and those just starting out can get advice from experts at a one-day workshop at Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, on Saturday, Nov. 22, from 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The annual workshop is being presented by the Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce and the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE).

Several seminars covering different aspects of the business world will be taught by area professionals. Subjects will include financing, marketing and advertising, legal considerations and recordkeeping. Participants will learn such things as whether or not they are really ready to start a business and will be made aware of some of the success and failure factors of running a business.

SCORE counselors, who have retired from large and small companies, will be on hand to distribute information kits and set up appointments to discuss specific problems people may have in starting their own business.

SCORE is funded by the U.S. Small Business Administration to allow business owners a chance to use the expertise developed by specialists over their years of business. Besides the workshops, they offer free counseling services in most of the area chambers of commerce offices.

Speakers include Donald L. Ruhl, president of the Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce; Linda MacLean, assistant vice president of the Bank of New England; Constance Archambault, president of C.M.A. Associates; William Gleed, Attorney-at-Law; Betsy Conte, a CPA who operates her own accounting firm; and Herbert Marcus, SCORE counselor whose experience include operating a variety of small businesses, as well as real estate and banking.

A registration fee covers all instructional materials and refreshments and registrations will be accepted at the door.

Jupiter, chief of the Roman deities, was also called Optimus Maximus, the best and the greatest.

Andover Crafters In Salem Fair

Don Scott receives an award in recognition of 12 years of service for the board of directors of Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc. Pictured here with Don is ESMV Board President Elizabeth Kalhauser.

Recognized For Service

Andover resident Don Scott was honored recently at the 12th annual meeting of the board of directors of Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc. He was presented with an award upon retiring from the board, in recognition of his many years of service, vision, leadership and advocacy for elders. Scott, a founding board member of Elder Services, has served the agency since its incorporation in 1974.

"Don Scott has helped to improve the lives of Merrimack Valley elders and maintain their dignity and independence. He will be missed by the board, Advisory Council and staff of Elder Services," said Rosanne J. Distefano, executive director, Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc.

Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc. is a private, nonprofit home care corporation providing in-home, community-based services for the elderly in the region's 23 cities and towns.

To Host Christmas School

St. Augustine's Parish in Andover will again host a Christmas School for four and five-year-old children. Two sessions will be held daily December 8, 9, 10 and 11: from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. All activities will be held in the Parish Center, 1 St. Augustine Drive. Parents who are interested in having a child attend should register by calling the Religious Education Center. Twenty-five children will be accepted for each session. Any adult who would like to volunteer time to help with the program will be welcome.

ANKLE SPRAINS

The ankle joint if uninjured should only function in the up and down direction. The ability of the foot to move from side to side does not actually occur in the ankle, but in the foot. If the foot is bent inward and beyond its normal range, then the ankle joint is forced to move.

Forced side to side movement in the ankle puts abnormal stresses upon ligaments and tendons that attach and surround the joint. The most common injury is the tearing of ligaments on the outside of the ankle. Other injuries may also involve structures of the lower leg which would be referred to other specialists.

Prompt treatment of ankle injuries is important not only for resolution of pain; but in the prevention of long term problems.

Arsenic and Old Lace

Friday and Saturday night, murder stalked the Collins Center, when the high school drama club presented their production of Joseph Keselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace." The play features an assortment of dotty characters—larcenous aunties, a killer who has his face lifted when it becomes familiar to the law, a man who would be Teddy Roosevelt—pulled together by common genes and a big old house with bodies in the living room windowseat. Photos, from above left: drama critic Mortimer Brewster (Ed Pascussi) finds himself all tied up, courtesy of his brother, Jonathan (Mike Reed), a man of many faces; Teddy Brewster (Jeff Shapiro), who fancies himself Teddy Roosevelt; Aunties Abby (Heather Whyte) and Martha (Patricia Squibb) Brewster watch carefully as Mr. Gibbs (Steven Wrigley) prepares to drink a lethal cup of their home made elderberry wine—until Mortimer intervenes; Mortimer comforts his fiancee, Elaine (Jen Wilson), who has had a disastrous first meeting with Jonathan.

Teaching Safety

On Oct. 24, Bon Secours Hospital and Bay State Ambulance Service presented a safety education program for students of the Bancroft School. Photos, from above left: Bancroft students find out what a real Emergency Medical Technician does; The children receive an illustrated flyer on safety in the home, produced by Bon Secours to alert children and their parents to potential safety hazzards; A clown from Strawberry Productions tells the students how to call an ambulance in an emergency; Students tour an ambulance; A one-on-one lesson in emergency telephone use.

Here's exciting news. We're opening our second branch office in North Andover at the North Andover Mall

Our Grand Opening festivities start Saturday, November 22 and continue until Saturday, November 29. Mark that last date on your calendar, because that's the day of our grand prize drawing!

Our North Andover Mall branch opening could be worth the trip.

Skiing in the Alps, or sailing in Aruba? The lucky winner will get to choose a one-week trip for two to the Swiss Alps or Aruba

You'll receive airfare, accommodations, limousine service from your home to the airport, and transportation to and from your hotel. Plus $500 to spend as you please.

You could be a daily prize winner, too. To enter, just bring your Instant Win Card. If you didn't receive one in the mail, ask for one when you come in.

Try your card in the special bar code readers located in our lobby. You might win in our daily prize give-away, featuring valuable gift certificates from North Andover Mall merchants

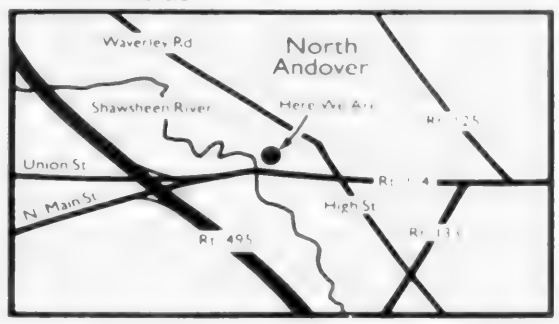

And then be sure to enter our grand prize drawing. Just write your name and address on the back of the Instant Win Card, and drop it in the entry box.

Instant cash makes you an instant winner. While you're here, try your First Essex/24 ATM card in our 24-hour automatic teller machine. It will instantly indicate if you've won $1, $5, $10, $20, or even $50 in instant cash! If you don't have one, ask for a demonstration.

You'll have a grand time. Plan to join us the week of November 22 for coffee, donuts, and a free gift to everyone who stops by. It's your opportunity to see our new office, and get acquainted with Karen L'Italien, our branch manager, and the rest of the First Essex staff. Our North Andover Mall branch hours are:

	Walk-in	Full service

Clubs Off To Strong Start

By Jeff Kittleson

The many clubs at Andover High School are off to another busy year, hoping to get as many students as possible involved in the activities offered. Three of these clubs, S.A.D.D., the yearbook committee and the business club, have been especially active and continue to serve all students in one way or another.

The S.A.D.D. chapter started in 1982 and is the largest club this year with approximately 400 students. Offices are president Julie Boland, vice president Mark Tucker and secretary/treasurer Katie Pakos. They are helped by Scott Brink and Lou Lopresti who are in charge of publishing and publicity. Scott says, "It is our job to put out the newsleters and put up posters so that the public knows what we're doing."

The five officers meet weekly with advisor Pattie Barrett to plan the activities. Julie says, "Together we organize our programs and figure out who we want for speakers." So far this year, S.A.D.D. members have learned about organ donation, the statistics of drunken driving and what happens when a person is arrested when driving under the influence. For the future, Julie says, "We have a lot of ideas in the workings." On the agenda in December is S.A.D.D. Night, possibly with Jim Rice of the Red Sox as a speaker. They hope to make a video dealing with S.A.D.D. and its purpose at Andover High School. All together, S.A.D.D. is a very busy club with a very serious purpose.

Every year students expect to see a yearbook, but few realize the long hours that go into making one. This year's yearbook staff is made up of 20 students, and all are beginning to appreciate the time required for its overall planning. The hardest worker is editor Tanya Zahornasky, who puts in 15-18 hours a week. She says that her job is more difficult than she expected and the most challenging part is "getting all of the pages done perfectly with all of the writing that goes on each page." Other key members in production and layout are assistant editor Kim Wagner, photography editor Kelly Johnson and advisor Fran McCormac. The yearbook, entitled "Pizazz '87," should be ready by May.

The Business Club has 60 members and its main purpose, according to president Ron Morgese, is "to teach the members about today's business world by giving them on-hand experience.' This is done in a number of ways and Ron explains, "We have guest speakers come in to talk with us and then we hold fund-raisers for money that we will eventually invest." The club has held a bake sale and hopes to sponsor a concert and sell food at basketball games.

Other offices in the club include vice president Jim Tacy, treasurer Jim Flowers and seretary Wanda Witkowski. Julia Carpenter, public relations officers, states, "It is our job to organize the activities that we will sponsor." She is helped by Brad Wright, Debbie Jannetti, Janice Sylvanowicz, Rob Bealand and Bryan Derryberry. All members will contribute through sales and will be helped by advisor Bill Hart. It appears as though they will have another successful year in making money and giving the students a head start in the business field.

I'm yelling to you but you can't hear me because we've all been training ourselves in deafness. Still, from here, I can see you covering your ears. Why don't you put your arm down and come over? It's better for the circulation.

Final announcement for the exhibition of recent art by David Sullivan at his 94 No. Main St., Andover home, through November.

Open Friday and Saturday 10:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M.

Western Roundup

By Carrie Lumley

During the week of November 10, the activities at West Junior High School were limited due to the lack of school days. Individual ninth grade pictures were taken on Friday for the yearbook. Many ninth graders plan on making their yearbook the best one West has ever had. In order to do so, we need your contributions so our talented students can create something extraordinary.

A dance was scheduled for last Friday but, because of the time frame, could not take place. It has been re-scheduled for November 21. We hope to see all of the students there supporting their school.

As a result of a half-day on Thursday, the 13, the awards assembly could not transpire, but will occur within the next week. This is held to honor those who have achieved above average performance during term one.

The athletic teams ended their season with the following records: field hockey, 1-1-7; girls' soccer, 6-4-2; boys' soccer, 7-2-2; football, 4-5. Now that all these fall sports have ended, many of the students are getting psyched up to make this basketball season the best West has ever seen. Likewise, everyone is trying to achieve the school motto, 'Excellence in Everything."

Information Coffees Scheduled

Mrs. Kathy Traister announced the 1986-87 scheduling of the Solomon Schechter Day School's information coffees for parents. "There will be an informational get together at the home of an Andover Schechter parent in Andover on Wednesday, Dec. 10, at 7:30 p.m. The Schechter Day School, a regional Jewish day elementary school in its fourth year of operation will be holding information coffees for interested parents in several convenient locations in the Merrimack Valley over the next six weeks. Another coffee will be held on Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at Temple Emanuel, 514 Main St., in Haverhill and another will be in Newburyport on Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m. Contact the school for further information."

The school's program assists its students in their development as whole individuals possessing qualities of self-assurance and moral judgment; the academic skills, discipline and motivation required in higher educational challenges and the ability to join and help groups and other individuals in their cooperative work.

Students this year come from communities throughout the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire, including Haverhill, Lawrence, Andover, Bradford, Newburyporrt, Amesbury, Tewkbury, Merrimacport, Mass., and Windham, Derry, Exeter and Salem, N.H. Student enrollment increased by more than 32 percent from last year. This increase has facilitated the development of carpools from most areas and further ease of access is expected for the next academic year.

Preschool Opening At YMCA

The Andover-North Andover YMCA Preschool-Nursery Program has expanded its program since the fall of 1985. The program now offers a morning class on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Tuesday, Thursday from 8:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and afternoon class on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Tuesday, Thursday from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Classes follow the Y calendar.

Creative play, music, storytime, art, blocks and sand and water play are some of the activities offered every day. The morning chilren have supervised swimming lessons on Monday, Thursday and Friday with aquatic instructors, classroom teachers and parent volunteers. The afternoon classes are offered gymnastic lessons with instructor Beth Geddes on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The nursery school program was designed to meet the social development and interaction needs of children ages 3-5 years old. There is some academic emphasis, but a large emphasis is placed on small and large motor skill activites. Parent involvement is encouraged.

Fees for the program are based on Y membership.

Openings are available in both sessions. Interested parents should contact Debbie McLaughlin at the YMCA.

Named To Dean's List

Three Andover residents have been named to the Dean's List of Northeastern University for the Summer 1986 quarter. In order to be named, a student must maintain a full course-load with a quality point average 3.0 or above on a 4.0 scale, and have no grade lower than a C.

Attaining honors were: Richard J. Flaherty, 3 Snowberry Road, College of Business Administration; Andrew P. Murphy, 3 Winchester Drive, College of Engineering; and Ellen M. Splaver, College of Criminal Justice.

The face of the Statue of Liberty is ten feet wide. Each eye is two feet, six inches wide.

Philosopher Mortimer Adler, right, and William E. Hart discussing strategies of the Paideia seminars.

Hart Seminar Participant

William E. Hart, principal of Andover West Junior High School, recently participated in a seminar led by Philosopher Mortimer Adler at the St. Francis DeSales School in Roxbury.

The seminar was based on Martin Luther King, Jr.'s letter from Birmingham jail. Adler is the father of a movement he calls Paideia, Greek for the upbringing of a child, that demands a strong traditional curriculum and instruction by coaching, seminars and lectures.

The movement, supported by nationally respected educators, calls for using lectures to convey organized knowledge in fields such as language, literature, the fine arts, mathematics, and natural science, history, geography and social studies; coaching, in small groups or individually, for reading, writing, speaking, listening, calculating, problem solving, observing, measuring, estimating and exercising critical judgment; broadening understanding of ideals and values by discussion and Socratic questioning in learning about books and other works.

Andover West Junior High School conducted the first student Paideia seminar recently with a group of ninth grade English students from David Gangi's class. The seminar was conducted in the DeCesare Media Center on "To Kill a Mockingbird" with Anthony Covino, assistant principal, Mrs. Brenda Doherty, Horace Mann teacher, and William Hart as co-leaders.

Decorated

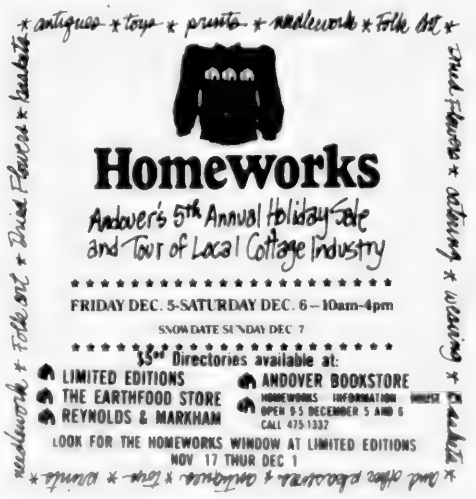

"An Olde Concord Christmas" is the popular biennial benefit exhibition produced by the Concord Museum Guild. The 15 period rooms and galleries of the Concord Museum are decorated with historic accuracy in the spirit of the season. The 1986 exhibition will use prints as paintings as inspiration for the decorations. For example, the design of the 1690 gallery will use a 16th-century woodcut called "Neighbors Eating Together" as a basis for the decorations. The foods, dishes and tableware will be replicated, making the room an authentic period recreation.

Admission is charged.

Open House

The Hunt Hospital, Danvers, celebrates the opening of its renovated maternity unit "Precious Moments" with an Open House on Sunday, Nov. 23, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

All items may be seen at a special preview from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 5.

The "Dickens of a Christmas Weekend" will continue on Saturday, Dec. 6, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and concludes Sunday, Dec. 7, with an ecumenical service, Lessons in Carols for Advent, at 4 p.m.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Most expectant parents feel a little scared at the prospect of taking sole charge of a helpless baby for the first time. If you have this feeling, it doesn't mean that you won't be able to do a good job or that you have to have a nurse to show you how. But if you feel really panicky, you will probably learn more comfortably with an agreeable practical nurse - or relative, if this can be arranged. If you can't have regular help, you may be able to afford and find a person to come in once or twice a week to do the cleaning, help you catch up on the housework, and watch the baby for a few hours while you go out for a visit.

Is there a baby on the way? Get ready to welcome it by shopping at TINY TOTLAND Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. M/C & Visa honored. Free Lay-a-way available. Leading brand name furniture, toys and gift items are available at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N. H. Tel. 1-603-623-6171.

Dieters Program

"The Healthful Gourmet: A Dieter's Guide to the Holidays" is the title of a special program to be presented Monday, Dec. 1, at Lawrence General Hospital from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

LGH clinical dietitians Anna Sousa, R.D., and Lisa Pancoast, R.D., will explain how to use behavior modification techniques to decrease calories and still serve delicious holiday foods. A cooking demonstration will be included.

The program is free, but preregistration is requested so that enough food samples can be prepared. Call A Woman's Healthcare Center at Lawrence General Hospital to register.

BEWARE.

Of the little things. Carefully contemplated and selected to add that special touch to a special ensemble. That's what the world of accessories is all about.

At KAPS, we feel that accessories are just as important as the main elements of an outfit. By nature, they are dual in purpose -- they are functional and fashionable. For instance, while a red handkerchief might aid you during that first winter cold, it also adds depth to your look.

Take advantage of the power of accessories because a few small things, if selected properly, can surely make a large and powerful impact.

Just let your imagination run wild at KAPS. We have the widest selection of men's furnishings from suspenders to ties to socks to handkerchiefs to tie clips to cuff links to belts.

Accessories -- explore the possibilities. At KAPS, of course.

Acquired

The Gillette Company announced that it has acquired 100 percent of the stock of Lustrasilk Corportion of America, Inc.

Lustrasilk, founded in 1951, is a privately-held company based in Minneapolis and is a leading manufacturer of ethnic hair care products. According to William J. Ryan, president of The Gillette Personal Care Division, Lustrasilk is strongly positioned within the industry. The company participates in all major subsegments of the ethnic hair care category and has a strong consumer franchise under well-known brand names that include "Lustrasilk," "Right-On" and "Curly Look Control."

Concert

"Northeast Winds," New England's popular Irish minstrels, will perform again this year at Bradford College's Denworth Hall on Friday, Nov. 21, at 8 p.m.

A highlight of last year's Creative Arts Series, the group is known for its traditional Irish favorites, haunting ballads, popular sing-alongs, sea chanties and rousing instrumentals.

"Northeast Winds" has frequently performed with the Clancy Brothers and the Irish Rovers and has appeared with the Portland Symphony Orchestra and the Elgin Illinois Symphony.

Sick Child Services Available

"Sniffles and Sneezes" sick child care service is underway at St. Johns Hospital as a new community service for the residents of Greater Lowell. This innovative new program will allow you to leave your sick child in the care of St. John's pediatric staff while you are at work, according to an annoncement by Sister Ann MacKenzie, vice president of nursing.

The program is designed for working parents with children between the ages of six weeks and 10 years who are suffering from a common temporary illness and are unable to go to school or day care center. "Sniffles and Sneezes" will operate seven days a week from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. "You can drop your child and go on to work with peace of mind knowing that your son or daughter will be in the professional care of a St. John's pediatric nurse. Working parents will no longer have to worry about alternative care sources should their child become ill," stated Sister Ann.

Parents should plan to spend about 15 minutes registering their child and providing the staff with instructions for care, medications and other information they feel is important. A lunch tray will be provideed and a favorite toy from home is welcome. Contact St. John's "Sniffles and sneezes" at least one hour in advance of the time you plan to bring your child.

Ornaments

Chris Hannual will offer her annual Christmas Calico Decorations Workshop on Tuesday, Dec. 2, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Doherty Junior High School. Students can choose a braided wreath, pillow tree and easy-to-make ornaments. Sewing is a pre-requisie. Students purchase their own materials. A supply list is available when registering at the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Gingerbread House

Hansel and Gretel would not be able to resist tasting the gingerbread house you can assemble on Thursday, Dec. 4, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the high school. Some advance preparation is required. Students must purchase the candy trim and decorations. A supply list is available at the DCS office.

Christmas Cookie

Children in grades 1-3 will use their skills and imagination to make Christmas cookies on Thursday, Dec. 11, from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at West Junior High School. Children should bring a cookie sheet. All other supplies are included in the fee. Register at the DCS office Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Theatre Trip

The Department of Community Services is sponsoring a theatre trip to "I'm Not Rappaport" at Boston's Colonial Theatre on Wednesday, Dec. 3. "I'm Not Rappaport" is a comedy about a New York eccentric who refuses to capitulate to the crass workday world around him. It stars Tony Award-winner Judd Hirsch (best actor) and Cleavon Little. The bus will leave from the rear of Town Offices at 6:30 p.m. and return at approximately 11:30 p.m. Cost includes bus and show ticket. Advance registration is required at the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Special Olympics Award

Recently, the Andover school system's Adaptive Physical Education staff was commended by the Essex County Special Olympics Committee for its support and participation in the organization's annual athletic meet. For the past two years, the department has hosted the Special Olympics track and field events at the high school's Eugene V. Lovely Field. Above, (l to r), Adaptive Physical Education teachers Dave Nichols and Daryl Arsenault, School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert and Phys. Ed. Program Advisor Dick Swift display the plaque awarded to the department on Nov. 4 by County Special Olympics Event Co-ordinator Bernice Pierce. The plaque, which features a reproduction of a pastel portrait of a Special Olympics medalist, will hang in the Physical Education offices in the school administration building.

At Course

Maureen Coyne of Messina's Carpet, Inc., Lawrence, recently attended a one-day course in Portsmouth, N.H., in interior decorating for employees of Armstrong Floor Fashion Center stores. The course was conducted by experts from Armstrong World Industries' Interior Design Center, which is known for its magazine advertisements showing beautiful rooms. The company started the ads in 1917.

'Nutcracker' Performance Benefits Scholarship Fund

A December 7 performance of Tchaikovsky's ballet, "The Nutcracker," by the renowned Pittsburgh Ballet, will be a benefit performance for the Merrimack College scholarship fund.

Thomas Barenboim, president of the Men of Merrimack, the 'honorary alumni" of Merrimack College, said the 7 p.m. performance will be the fourth and final performance by the Pittsburgh Ballet at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts in Andover. "The three other performances on Friday and Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon are already sold out. We expect tickets for this Sunday evening performance to sell out quickly, so we urge all those who wish to see this wonderful show to purchase their tickets as soon as possible."

The Pittsburgh Ballet performance will feature George Balanchine's original choreography and a number of special effects, including yhe "growing" Christmas tree. The full-length ballet will be accompanied by a 45-piece orchestra.

"The Nutcracker" has been delighting audiences for almost a century. The ballet, in two acts, with music by Peter Illyich Tchaikovsky, is based on the E.T.A. Hoffman story, "The Nutcracker and the Mouse King." "The Nutcracker" was first performed by the Russian Imperial Ballet and has become a tradition around the world. A child's fantasy of Christmas toys and delights coming alive is a holiday event for the entire family.

The Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre, a professional ballet company of 34 dancers under the artistic direction of Patricia Wilde, ranks among the top 10 major ballet companies in the United States.

Gold ticket holders will be seated in the dress circle of the theatre and will be invited to a special reception following the performance. All tickets are tax deductible.

Ticket information is available by contacting the Merrimack College Office for Institutional Advancement, Merrimack College, North Andover, MA 01845.

The Russian Tsar and the German Kaiser took their titles from the Roman Julius Caesar.

Travel Film At Center

The many phases of Greece, the beautiful heritage of ancient times, will be shown in a new travel film on Monday, Nov. 24, at 8 p.m. at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, Andover.

"Greece and the Aegean Sea" will be shown in full color on the Collins Center wide screen and be narrated in person by photographer Ted Bumiller.

The film opens with Athens, its golden past and present, the Parthenon, Acropolis, Constitution and Omonia Squares, street vendors and kilted Royal Guard Museum.

Poseidon's Temple, Corinth Canal and the ancient ruins of Mycenae are also pictured.

Country-Pop Hitmaker To Perform Two Shows

Eddie Rabbitt

Country-pop hitmaker Eddie Rabbitt will bring his unique style of music to the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, Andover, on Saturday, Nov. 29, for two performances at 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Rabbitt, the Brooklyn-born, New Jersey-raised country superstar, is known for such hits a "I Love A Rainy Night," "Drivin' My Life Away," "Step by Step" and "Someone Could Lose a Heart Tonight."

The son of Irish immigrants, Rabbitt's musical style is suddenly very attractive to young people because he was one of the first Nashville stars to fuse a modern pop sensibility with country songwriting.

He started playing guitar at the age of 12 and has been successful with 25 number-one records, 13 best-selling LPs and dozens of songwriting awards.

Rabbit devotes much of his time to writing and wrote a song called "Kentucky Rain" which eventually became the 50th million-selling single of Elvis Presley's career.

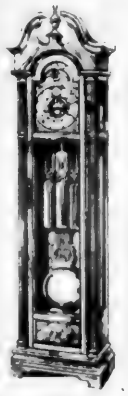

In the last couple of years he has embarked on a rather vigorous program of physical fitness which includes running and weight training.

Of his own musical evolution, Rabbitt says, "I suppose that, stylistically, I have evolved and changed. But it hasn't really been conscius—it's more like hair growing; you never really see it happening or feel it happening until you wake up one day and you have long hair."

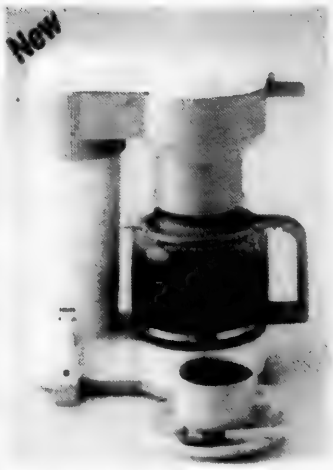

Tickets may be purchased at the Collins Center box office and all Ticketron locations.

The name Liberty Bell was first used in reference to the large bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, in 1848. It appeared in an article written by Benson J. Lossing.

The longest reign as a world champion is 17 years by the Basque tennis player, Pierre Etchbaster.

Market Research Group Formed

Digital Design Publishing Corporation has announced the establishment of ESD: Research. This branch of the organization will be located at the corporate headquarters of the main company at 1050 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston.

ESD: Research will be responsible for the development of several comprehensive market studies exploring the major industries covered by Digital Design magazine. The results of which will include market sizes and segmentations, forecast projections, technological growth areas, ratings and rankings of vendors involved in the various technologies covered within the magazine and other custom research topics. The primary thrust of the department will be to provide support and timely information for the manufacturers of products for the systems design industry.

Jonathan D. Stone has recently been appointed marketing research director for the ESD: Research profit center. He has an MBA degree from Suffolk University in Boston and a graduate degree in psychology from the University of Missouri-St. Louis. Most recently, Stone had been the marketing research analyst for Tau-tron Inc., a unit of General Signal Corportion, Westford. Prior to that he worked for Sanders Associates, Microwave Division, in Manchester, N.H., as manager of marketing administration and research. His background also includes having been the northwest regional manager of sales and marketing for Teledyne Electro-Mechanisms out of Nashua, N.H.

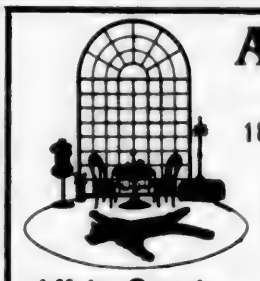

Jonathan D. Stone

Stone's marketing, sales and research experience in electronics covers components, high speed digital test equipment and network systems. This expertise will be applied to producing major industry studies for 1987. He has already started on studies for the CAE-/CAD and BUS/Board electronic systems industry segments. These will be followed by studies on both Advanced IC's and Imaging and Graphics systems. This commitment to heavy research support for the electronic systems product market is being funded by Digital Design/ESD: The Electronic Systems Design Magazine.

Stone resides in Andover with his wife, Karen, a teacher at Andover High School, and his daughter, Stephanie.

The Leap Year was invented by Julius Ceasar.

Barbara Ward With Sculptures

Soft Sculpture To Be Featured

Barbara Ward of Boston will display pieces of soft sculpture at the Cultural Extravaganza of Color which is being presented by the Greater Lawrence YWCA at the Lawrence High School Auditorium on Nov. 21.

Soft sculpture is an art form in which human-like figures and abstract shapes are made of fabric and stuffed with cotton. The figures have been used for environmental design and state sets.

Ward specializes in the design of third-world figures. Her work reflects her strong desire to connect with her ancestry. She uses art as an educational tool to integrate social awareness with artistic integrity. Ward has collaborated and been commissioned by writers, child therapists and educational institutions. Her works have been displayed by corporations, colleges and universities, museum and galleries.

The Cultural Extravaganza of Color will also feature "The Art of Black Dance and Music" from Boston, "Ballet Folklorica Le-Lo-Lai" of New Bedford and the "Asian Cultural Group" of Lawrence.

Birds of prey have the keenest eyesight in the avian world. The golden eagle can detect an 18-inch-long hare at a range of 2,150 yards, possible even two miles.

Christmas Past

Guides will lead vistors on tours of the Great House at Castle Hill in Ipswich on Sunday, Dec. 14, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the former Ipswich home of the Richard T. Crane, Jr. family features a 63-foot long gallery, a library bearing ornamental wood carvings by 17th-century English craftsman Grinling Gibbons and family bedrooms decorated with panels shipped piece-by-piece from the London residence of William Hogarth. As befits the residence of the Chicago industrialist who marketed the first practical, decorative bathrooms in America, the tour includes 10 bathrooms embellished with sterling silver fixtures and soft-hued Italian marble.

The 59-room Great House and its 165-acres of landscaped grounds overlooking the Crane Memorial Reservation provide a perspective on the art, architecture and society of early 20th-century America.

Gardeners Hear About Design

The Four Seasons Garden Club met with Mrs. John Arserio, Sheffield Circle, on Thursday with Mrs. Terry Sullivan as co-hostess.

Table centerpiece, made by Mrs. Arserio, was a turkey composed of fresh fruits.

Walter and Nancy Perkins of Greentree Farm, Merrimac, discussed "Garden Design."

Mrs. John Cronin and Mrs. James Deyo, new members, were welcomed.

A few memberships are still open. For further information, call membership chairman, Mrs. John Webster.

The club will hold its annual Holiday Party on December 14 with Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Pallone.

Church Celebrates Heritage Sunday

Members of West Parish Church, Andover, will celebrate their 160-year heritage with an authentic 1826 worship service on Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 23. Dedicated on December 26, 1826, as the West Meetinghous, the historic church is located west of the Shawsheen River at the junction of Shawsheen Road, Reservation Road and Route 133. Members of the congregation and their guests, dressed in the costumes of their forefathrs and mothers, will gather on the green in front of the church at 10:15 a.m. for a "walk to church" round the green before the service begins.

The worship service, based on extensive research conducted by members of the congregation, will recreate special moments selected from the church's original 1826 Dedication Exercises, early Sabbath School programs and other historic services. The sleepy parishioner who nods off risks being tickeled awake by a church official wielding a feather. Specially chosen psalm tunes will be "lined out" as they were in early years when the church had no hymnbooks for congregational singing. Other highlights include special music by the choir and a message, "Giving Thanks" by Pastor Dirkje Legerstee. Special guests will include former pastors who have served at West Parish through the years.

Heritage Sunday culminates a month of events conducted to observe West Parish's 160th anniversary. History month began on October 26 with an historical walk through West Parish Cemetery, which was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1982, along with West Parish Church. The tour was conducted and narrated by Joan Patrakis and included many points of historical interest. Members of the congregation visited "the Old Burying Place" and the chapel, learned where to find the oldest gravestone in the Town of Andover and discovered that the great-great-granddaughter of Miles Standish is buried there.

An adult study group met on November 2 and 9 to learn more about the history of West Parish Church through its association with the United Church of Christ. They explored the origins, organization, charactristics and beliefs of the U.C.C. and West Parish's covenant partnership with U.C.C.

The November 16 worship service honored four active members of West Parish who have passed their golden anniversary with the church and 14 members who are approaching the 50-year mark. Honorees were Olive Carruthers, Nonie Newell, Doris Newton, Mary Putnam, Betty Gorrie, Doris McLaughlin, Helen Trott, Bud Lewis, Agnes and Bob Marland, Dot and Art Peatman, Helen Robinson, Barbara and Bud Wilson, Helen Northey, Gladys Piper and Esther Conkey. After the service, parishioners gathered for an all-church pot luck luncheon and slide presentation titled "West Parish Women in the 19th Century." The presentation focused on the role women of West Parish played during the early years of the church in establishing the religious, educational, missionary and social organization of the church.

"We are issuing a 'homecoming' invitation for our Heritage Sunday to all parishioners and former parishioners of West Parish and to everyone in the community at large," commented a member of the Ministry of Worship, one of the groups active in planning the events of the day. "We hope it will be a joyful day of celebration and fellowship, a day to remember for many years to come."

Open House

Edward F. Kittredge, The Hunt Hospital administrator, announced that The Hunt will host an Open House of its renovated maternity unit, "Precious Moments," on Sunday, Nov. 23, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Hunt's maternity unit has experienced a 14.9 percent increase in live births during July, August and September, compared to the same period last year.

Because of the increased demand on The Hunt's current 10 maternity beds, renovations include a new labor delivery room and four new private rooms with private showers. Long-range goals include providing more private rooms and adding private showers.

A close relative of the June bug, a leaf-eating beetle, is the Japanese beetle.

The name Kentucky, some belief, comes from the Cherokee word for prairie or barren ground.

The most special part of Thanksgiving

...is the time we take to thank God for His unspeakable goodness and love. Christian Scientists come together on Thanksgiving Day to hear readings from the Bible, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, to pray, sing hymns, and express their gratitude to God. Whether or not you're a Christian Scientist, we'd love to have you join us for a very special Thanksgiving celebration.

Thanksgiving Service At Vale

The annual Andover Interfaith Thanksgiving Service will be held this year at the BallardVale United Church (a United Methodist and United Church of Christ congregation) at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 23. This will be the first time that the service will not be on a Thanksgiving eve. The theme will be "It is a Good thing to Give Thanks Unto the Lord." The Rev. Richard O'Leary, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's Church, is the preacher with the host church's pastor, The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, serving as liturgist. Mrs. Nancy Kolitz, also from the BallardVale Church, will be the reader. Cantor Domm Rosenzweig will sing two selections and the BallardVale Church choir will offer a Thanksgiving Anthem.

Mrs. Cynthia Hollenbeck, a member of the St. Augustine's Parish, will offer a liturgical dance in a celebration of the harvest. The community is invited. A time for fellowship and light refreshment will follow the worship. A special offering will be received in support of the Neighbors in Need Ministry.

Exam At Austin

Austin Preparatory School, 101 Willow St., Reading, will administer an Entrance and Scholarship Exam to prospective students on Saturday, Nov. 22, at 8:30 a.m. Pre-registration is not required.

Candlelight Service Set For Lawrence Common

The Greater Lawrence Council of Churches, in cooperation with the Bread and Roses Hertiage Committee and the City of Lawrence, is planning a candlelight vigil on Sunday, Dec. 7, from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. The intention is for hundreds, maybe thousands, of people of all ages, faiths and the diverse cultural heritage which is Lawrence to gather on the Lawrence common for a simple candlelight service of carols and prayers.

"A Silent Night for Greater Lawrence" will begin with church choirs streaming into the common from all four sides. These colorfully robed carolers will meet at the center of the common to lead all present in singing the traditional carols of many lands. Following a few prayers for peace and unity within the community, a reception will be held.

The council feels that this program is especially appropriate during the Advent and Christmas seasons. They feel it is important to share a vision which calls the community back to the spirit of the season, to make room for the coming of the Christ child and seeks a commitment to Christ's message for peace, love and understanding, a message especially important in an immigrant city such as Lawrence.

As part of its "Year of the Worker" program, the Bread and Rose Heritage Committee is encourageing people of all cultures and all religions to share their holiday (and other) traditions, their heritage, with the rest of the community. The committee feels that the type of multi-cultural unity displayed by the strikers of 1912 is needed today if Greater Lawrence is to reach its full potential. The sharing of traditions helps to increase understanding which can lead to such unity.

Thanksgiving Services At St. Augustine's

A special Thanksgiving Liturgy will be celebrated at St. Augustine's church on Wednesday, Nov. 26 at 7:30 p.m. and again on Thursday, Nov. 27 at 9:30 a.m.

Service Aims To End Hunger

A special evening of prayer will be held at St, Augustine's church tonight at 6 o'clock, aimed at ending world hunger.

Intentions are to join thousands of people across the country in participating in a fast in Oxfam's 12th annual Fast for a World Harvest. Those attending are asked to skip dinner and bring the money along instead to be sent to Oxfam America.

Oliver Wilder from Oxfam will be guest speaker at the service.

Obituaries

Fernand A. Bernardin

Attorney Fernand A. Bernardin, 49 School St., died Nov. 13, 1986, at Lawrence General Hospital. He was 79.

Mr. Bernardin was a lawyer for 53 years with Bernardin and Bernardin Attorneys at Law, and was actively working until the time of his death. He was a lawyer in the Bay State Building for 50 years and continued to maintain an association with both his brother, attorney Rene R., and his son, attorney David F., at the Aberdeen Building in Andover since 1983.

He was a member and former president of the Lawrence Bar Association and was one of the original directors of the Bon Secours Hospital Men's Guild, a past president of the French Social Club and for many years served as a corporator, clerk, trustee and council for the Community Savings Bank. He was an avid golfer for many years in the Merrimack Valley area. He attended St. Augustine's Church.

Born in Lawrence, Mr. Bernardin graduated from St. John Preparatory School, Danvers, and Boston College and Boston University. He moved to Andover 24 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mary L. (Daly) Bernardin; sons, attorney David F. of Andover, Thomas M. of New York, N.Y., and Joseph C. of Lawrence; daughters, Mrs. Joseph T. (Louise M.) Ponti of Andover and Ms. Julie M. Bernardin of Lowell; a brother, attorney Rene R. of Lawrence; sisters, Miss Edmee E. Bernardin of Andover and Mrs. Blanche Roussel of Lawrence; seven grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was celebrated in St. Augustine's Church, and a memorial service was conducted by the Lawrence Bar Association. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Contributions may be made in Mr. Bernardin's memory to the charity of one's choice.

Henry F. Olefirowicz

Henry F. Olefirowicz, 16 Linwood St., died Nov. 12, 1986, at Bon Secours Hospital, where he had been a patient for four months. He was 55.

Mr. Olefirowicz worked as a quality controller at Sanders Associates in Nashua, N.H. He was born in Lawrence and educated in Holy Trinity Grammar School, and was a graduate of Searles High, Methuen. He served in the Air Force during the Korean Conflict and was a member of the Baverian Club.

The widower of Biriute "Betty" (Shimkonis) Olefirowicz, he is survived by brothers, John J. and Richard F., both of Methuen; sisters, Mrs. Josephine Tatro of Mystic, Conn., Mrs. Helen Szuflicki of Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. Walter J. (Blanche M.) Godek of Pelham, N.H.; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was celebrated at St. Francis Church. Burial was in Bellevue Cemetery.

Contributions may be made in Mr. Olefirowicz's memory to the Holy Trinity Renovation Fund.

Laura A. Smith

Laura A. (Moody) Smith, 1 Bodwell St., died Nov. 14, 1986, at Lawrence General Hospital. She was 73.

Mrs. Smith was born in Ballardvale, and was educated in Ballardvale and Brookfield schools. She was at one time affiliated with the American Red Cross.

She is survived by her husband, Charles F. Smith; a daughter, Alice R. Smith of Lawrence; a son, Donal F. of Haker Heights, Texas; one granddaughter, and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held at Breen Funeral home in Lawrence. Burial was in the Spring Grove Cemetery.

Florence E. Abbott Watt

Florence E. (Larkin) Abbott Watt, 105 Abbot St., died Nov. 14, 1986, at Brockton Hospital after a short illness. She was 84.

She was a lifelong resident of Andover, and worked as a secretary for the former Tyer Rubber Co. for many years.

Mrs. Watt was a member of the Free Christian Church and a past matron of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The widow of George Abbott and James Watt, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Charles (Ella) Pratt of Bridgewater and Mrs. Leslie (Etta) Bowker of Brewster.

Funeral services were held at the Caron Funeral Home of North Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Contributions may be made in Mrs. Watt's memory to the Free Christian Church Memorial Fund, 31 Elm St., Andover.

Willette C. Miller

Willette C. (Huxhold) Miller, 98½ Main St., died Nov. 15, 1986, at Lawrence General Hospital. She was 79.

Mrs. Miller worked in the accounting department of the Penn Central Railroad for 15 years prior to her retirement in 1972. She was born in Illinois and was a member of the Faith Lutheran Church of Andover.

The widow of John D. Miller, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John (Alice) Watkins of Andover; seven grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at Faith Lutheran Church. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Contributions may be made in Mrs. Miller's memory to the Faith Lutheran Church, 360 South Main St., Andover.

Mona B. Wilbur

Mona B. (Bracy) Wilbur, 62 Brookfield Road, died Nov. 15, 1986, at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston, where she had been a patient for three months. She was 58.

She was born in Columbus, Ohio, and lived in Andover for 26 years.

She is survived by her husband, Frank H. Wilbur, and a daughter, Jennifer A. Wilbur of Cambridge, Wisc.

Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

'Snow School' Bells Chime As Early Storm Hits Area

By Susan K. O'Neill

While Andover parents attacked their automobiles with shovels and brushes Wednesday morning, their children fidgeted beside their radios, ears straining for the magic words.

The announcement came in plenty of time—well before the buses were scheduled to arrive. It was official: for the first time this season, there would be no school in Andover because of the snow.

The young rejoiced; all over town, children plopped into chairs and snapped on the television, snuggled back into nests of warm blankets, or dug their boots and mittens out of the closets.

Adults, for the most part, were not elated.

The storm that had begun at about 3 a.m. had, by 7 a.m., dumped about five inches of snow on the Merrimack Valley—two more inches than that produced by the region's first snowfall on Veteran's Day. Unlike that first dusting of the white stuff, which melted away before it could produce havoc on the highways, Wednesday's stood firm. Even though plows had been working to keep the streets clear since the first few flurries, most town roads were still barely fit for driving by the time the average commuter was expected to be behind his or her desk.

"The roads are a mess," said Andover Police Sgt. Steve Avery at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday. "There are a lot of traffic problems—people trying to drive in it." According to Avery, there were a number of fender-benders on town roads, which were slippery almost from the onset of the storm.

Among vehicles involved in local accidents, all of which were considered minor , was a tractor-trailer truck which slid sideways on Pearson Street at 5:30 in the morning, and had to be towed out of the road.

Avery added that, while there were no serious traffic injuries reported in town, an Andover man was rushed to the hospital shortly after 8 a.m. after he severely lacerated his hand while operating his snowblower.

State police reported what Sgt. Tom McNulty of the Andover Barracks termed "probably hundreds of skidding accidents" on major highways in town. However, according to McNulty, none of the accidents involved serious injuries.

"We had twice the manpower as usual out there," he added, noting that the night shift had stayed on duty after the morning shift reported to work.

Town plows began their digging and sanding tasks early, according to Bob McQuade, the head of Andover's Department of Public Works. "At about 3 o'clock, we got called," he said. "We broke out the town plows. At 4:30, we broke out the private plows." School officials notified his department that there would be no school at 5:30 a.m.

McQuade estimated that most of the major thoroughfares had been cleared by 10 a.m., but plows and sanders were still at work on many of Andover's side roads.

Local experts consider the snowfall unusually heavy—and unusually early—compared to those of previous years. Officials at the Essex Company in Lawrence, which owns the hydroelectric dam on the Merrimack River, moniter daily snowfall in the area; according to their records, Wednesday's storm was the heaviest for this point in the season since 1980, when a Nov. 18 storm dropped eight inches on the region.

The average lightbulb lasts for 750 to 1,000 hours.

Proposed School Budget Shows 16.2 Percent Increase

By Karen L. Day

A 16.2 percent increase, nearly $3 million, was proposed by the school administration at the School Committee meeting on Tuesday evening, for a total proposed budget of $19,881,698 for the 1987-1988 school year.

After reviewing the shortcomings of the Andover educational system, Superintendent Kenneth Seifert and the Assistant Superintendents Leslie Loomis and Lois Haslam presented their Major New Initiatives for the 1987-1988 school year. Under the headings of these initiatives are specific programs proposed at both the elementary and secondary level.

About the proposed "Master Plan" for the Andover schools, Seifert commented that there are several factors that must be analyzed in the preparation of such a plan, and in addition, it should not be embarked upon "unless the commitment to follow through is present...is the resource support both attitudinally and financially present?" He added that such a plan would cost $25,000 including outside analysts to aid in the study of the schools.

The second initiative of the administration is the Curriculum and Instruction Plan presented to the community last year. Such a plan, in order to reach intended outcomes, would cost about $440,000 according to Seifert.

Seifert also proposed a five-year Computer Plan in order to bring Andover students and school staff up to the level of other school systems. The first year of the plan, which will be outlined in detail in the coming weeks, will cost the school system $300,000.

Commenting that non-college bound students are "neglected," Seifert suggested that an internal sabbatic, full-time for one-half the school year, be established in order to study these students and make suggestions as to how their needs can be best met.

Student Study Seminars were proposed in order to aid students who are disorganized, have trouble preparing homework or do not participate in class. According to Seifert, these students take valuable class time away from other students and themselves. Proposed were three teachers to help these students improve their skills at a cost of $75,000.

Seifert also suggested a Summer School Pilot Program for two specific categories of students: those sixth and seventh graders who voluntarily wish to strengthen skills, and for those with special needs who would suffer substantial regression without an extended year program.

The school for special needs would cost approximately $15,000 while the four-to six-week voluntary summer school would cost about $10,000 to operate with two teachers located at one of the junior high schools.

Seifert stated that the schools have three choices to make regarding the new initiatives: to add funding to the schools, to re-allocate funds now spent in other areas, or to be content with the present level of education offered by the system.

At this point, Budget Director Frank Paul presented the administration's overall budget proposal, which includes not only the new initiatives, but the basic needs of the schools and in-progess programs.

In the budgeting of the teaching, equipment and textbook areas, there are large increases due to the direction of the schools and particular programs proposed by the administration.

The increase in the teaching area, nearly $2 million, according to Paul, is a result of the major initiatives proposed by the administration.

The proposed funds allocated for textbooks are nearly double those allocated for the 1986-1987 school year, while the proposed budget for equipment is triple that of the current academic year.

Paul commented that nearly all other budget increases reflect cost increases.

In conclusion, Seifert presented the committee with a suggested calandar, which they approved of, for the reviewing of the budget.

On Dec. 2, the committee will review the building services and fixed charges; on Dec. 16, administration and other sevices costs will be examined.

At the two January meetings of the committee, the new initiatives and the total instructional plan will be reviewed.

New Officers Sworn In

At a joint Police and Fire department ceremony held recently, Fire Chief Harold Hayes and Police Chief James Johnson presented promotions to a total of eight members of their staffs.

Hayes promoted two individuals to the level of Lieutenant in the Fire Department.

Lincoln Clark began his career with the department as a dispatcher in 1979. He was named a permanent firefighter in April of 1980 and served on the ambulance until promoted to the position of Lieutenant at the ceremony.

Michael O'Neill was a provisional firefighter in 1977 and became permanent in June of 1978. Like Clark, he also served on the ambulance until he became a driver in 1983, the position he maintained until his recent promotion.

Johnson announced the promotions of six in the Police Department, two to Lieutenant level and four to Sergeant status.

John Houlihan, who has been with the Andover Police force for 19 years, was promoted to Sergeant in 1981 and has now been promoted to the position of Lieutenant. Also promoted to Lieutenant was Sgt. Phillip Froberg who has been with the force for 16 years and made Sergeant in 1983.

Police officers promoted to Sergeant included John Bernhart, with 16 years of service in Andover; Kevin Winters, with 11 years on the force; Barbara Connolly, after six years; and William McKenzie, with the force since 1977.

A Pleasant Meeting of Youth and Age

Every school day, folks taking part in the Adult Day Care Program in Andover's Senior Center get a helping hand from members of the "younger generation"—ninth-graders from West Junior High School.

According to parents Jan O'Brien and Geraldine Mitchell, who orient the students to the Center, each student volunteers for one week of service, during which he or she works and socializes with program members for two hours in the middle of the day. The students come to the Center in groups of four; this week's volunteers were DeeDee Castignoli, Katie Boness, Pete Caramanis and Mike Cowhig.

Photos, from upper left: Mike Cowhig gives Mary DerAnanian a hand with a leather-stitching project ("You know my grandson, don't you," says DerAnanian. "Yes, he plays drums in the band at school." DerAnanian makes a wry face. "I know—I hear him. All the time."); Lendora Lewis checks out the recipe for a birthday cake with Katie Boness; Then, as DeeDee Castignoli and Boness look on, Lewis takes command of the project; Castignoli serves Rita Lamontagne and DerAnanian their lunches; "I never was good at prying milk cartons open," mumbles Castignoli as she puts her nails to work; Boness gives 96-year-old Mary Robb her tray ("Goodness—what is it?"); Alice Mueller gets a wealth of masculine attention from Cowhig, volunteer Joe Gemmell and Pete Caramanis; setting out drinking straws is serious business for Caramanis.

Those Winning Ways

Amid the joys of sharing such good fortune as Cy Young and Most Valuable Player awards which the Red Sox Roger Clemens garnered, it is noteworthy to take a moment to commend our own athletes here on the Andover scene.

With the fall sports season coming to an end it must be noted that the Andover High Girls Soccer team went to the finals of the state tournament this year, losing out on the title but forcing Concord-Carlisle to five overtimes in difficult game conditions to do so.

The Warrior ladies turned in an excellent season, overpowering the Merrimack Valley Conference and placing several members on all-star teams.

The boys' soccer team also went into post-season play again this year, losing out in the early rounds, but again carrying the Andover banner into post-season state competition.

But this year belonged to the female booters who did such a great job during the season and met all competition in the post-season tourney, succesful in all but the final game, with most of the games being played in difficult weather and field conditions.

Both teams provided a great season for their fans and are a credit to the Andover Soccer Association which conducts the weekly program involving some 1200 youths in the community.

The effort was begun several years ago and has grown tremendously in popularity and participation since. That the effort has been worthwhile is evidenced in the results of the past few years by the Andover High varsity teams.

The success is based on the volunteer efforts of hundreds of parents and just plain friends of Andover soccer who conduct the program during the spring and fall of the year. Through their efforts youngsters attain enjoyment of competition, learning and developing skills as well as participating in just plain fun and camaraderie.

And, speaking of winning ways, let's not overlook the accomplishment of Andover High's football Warriors who last week upset a tough Tewksbury team through the best defensive effort Head Coach Dick Collins has seen in his 32 years of coaching.

The team has a 6-3 record going into the final game of the season next Thursday morning against Central Catholic.

It has been a tough season for the Warriors. They have lost some close ones, due primarily to a very well-balanced Merrimack Valley Conference this year.

A break here or there along the way could very well have turned some of thoe games around.

Regardless of the record, however, team members come away from the field with the confidence of accomplishment, of having given their best and the development of future leadership skills instilled in them by Coach Collins.

These Warriors are worthy of continued support in their season finale next Thursday morning at Lovely Field at 10 a.m.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — November 1911

The game scheduled to take place on Saturday between Punchard School and Governor Dummer Academy was not played, owing to the fact that the Governor Dummer team did not appear.

The special train to Exeter to accommodate those who attend the Andover-Exeter game, will leave the Boston and Maine station at 12:30 p.m.

On Tuesday night, Nov. 21, at 9 p.m., Mr. Barton will give away at Wonderland Theatre, to some one of the patrons, a big, fat, juicy, 20-pound Vermont turkey. To find out how to secure this bird, attend the theatre next week.

The annual meeting of the Andover Village Improvement Society will be held in the School Committee's room, Town Hall, Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

A general teachers' meeting will be held Wednesday in Punchard hall. At that time the Andover Association of Teachers will be reorganized for another year's work. There will be music and other interesting features.

50 Years Ago — November 1936

Personally, we wouldn't go two feet to get even the Rose Bowl football goal posts if they were handed to us on a silver platter—though we might take the platter. But we're not yet so old and creaky that we feel that today's youngsters should not indulge in what is fast becoming a great American custom—tearing down the goal posts.

Superintendent of the Board of Public Works Charles T. Gilliard was notified verbally yesterday afternoon and over the telephone this morning that the sum of $44,012 had been granted to Andover under the W.P.A. farm to market program.

Mrs. Clara F. Lane, widow of Dr. Elwin D. Lane of Locke St., sustained contusions and bruises about the head, arms and legs, and was badly shaken up when hit by an automobile on Main St. last Saturday night as she hurried across the street to board a bus.

Over 250 attended the second annual military ball held by the British War Veterans last Friday night in the Town Hall. At 11 p.m., there was a two-minute silence with a bugler sounding the British "Last Post."

The local E.R.A., which has been passing away gradually since last August, will come to an end this weekend, and on Monday, the new W.P.A. system will start here. The change will mean primarily that local department heads will direct their own jobs and that the workers will be selected by the United States Employment Service, local men being preferred.

25 years Ago — November 1961

Friday and Saturday nights are minstrel show nights for members of St. Augustine's parish. They will present the show both nights at the Memorial Auditorium—the first minstrel show ever produced by the members of the parish, and the first here in a good many years.

Improvements are being carried out at the town dump, following last week's hearing before the Board of Health and several of the Selectmen. A massive rat-killer operation was supposed to have taken place yesterday, with a Haverhill firm treating the area chemically to kill off

Suddenly The Chaos Disappeared

By Susan K. O'Neill

A couple of weeks ago, I became aware that a bomb was going to hit Doherty school's Memorial Auditorium on the night of Nov. 14.

I prepared well; I staked out the shelters and steeled myself.

But, when I showed up that night, I discovered that a miracle had transpired. What dropped on the stage of that building was a neat little gem—a charming gift to the community from a group of local troupers who call themselves "Andover Theatre Company."

I'm referring to the musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," which will wind up its two final performances this weekend.

I'll admit up front that I'm no drama critic. And yes, I do have a kid in this production; she's in the chorus. And, because she roped me into helping out, I work the stage-right spotlight.

So, I have my own personal prejudices. But let me say this—two weeks ago, I wouldn't have recommended seeing it. Now, I tell people they'd be crazy not to.

A couple of weeks ago, you see, I stayed to watch part of a rehearsal. What I saw was a bunch of teenagers tripping over each other, laughing, joking, and creating an amiable sort of chaos that director Josie Walker kept trying to pull into order by yelling, "PEOPLE!! (she pronounces it "pea-pole") Be QUIET!" and "PEOPLE!! You've got to SPEAK UP!!"

Sure, they had Michael Ashe in the role of Joseph. A University of Lowell student who has toured with "Up With People," Ashe could sing the Dow Jones listings and bring tears to your eyes. But one man does not a production make.

Handling a spotlight is pure idiot work requiring little pre-show preparation, so the first time I set eyes on the finished "Joseph" was dress rehearsal night.

I had come prepared to cringe.

Instead, I watched. Amazed. Was this the same play I'd seen in rehearsal?

"Joseph" is not an easy piece of theatre. It's a very cleverly written hour or so of music and dancing; there are no spoken lines. The ATC's young cast not only pulled it off, they actually made it a real treat to watch. Even for those of us who are duty-bound to sit through every performance.

I asked Josie, that first night, how it had all come together. She told me that she had seen the expertise behind the craziness all along. That all that chaos just looked like chaos.

Sure fooled me.

"Joseph" will only play two more performances. If I had to give one good reason to go to see it, I couldn't. There are too many good reasons—among them, Ashe's angelic tenor voice and stage presence; the vocal support of those surprisingly expert local teenagers; young Joshua Russo's comedy touches; the spirited choreography; the well-played and upbeat music by the authors of "Cats"; the jewel-like colors and whacky costuming; the set—which literally sparkles; the adrenalin of the thing.

And, of course, the lighting crew's the greatest.

The Public Forum

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I would like to thank and arouse public awareness of the Greater Lawrence Visiting Nurse Association and Hospice Program. Also the staff on S-5 and Sister Margaret Lynch, chaplain, at Lawrence General Hospital.

The dignity with which my late husband, Fred. J. Furnari, was cared for and the hospitality and compassion showed to our family helped us through a most difficult period in our lives.

Our most sincere gratitude to each wonderful and caring person involved.

Reform Needed

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Senator Pat McGovern needs to let the voters know where she stands on rule reform in the Seante.

Sen. McGovern's Ways and Means Committee is one of three "graveyard" committees that still exist in the Senate. A well-backed bill can still be sent to one of these committees for study, never to return. There is no requirement that a bill, no matter how well backed, ever be returned to the full Senate for a vote.

With rules like these, the Senate needs reform. Sen. McGovern's past inaction and present silence are disturbing. Does her silence indicate approval? Will she support long overdue reform in the senate? The voters have a right to know.

Thanks!

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The Department of Community Services would like to thank the following local business for their donations to the annual Haunted House: Arlington Trust Company, Andover Savings Bank, DeMoulas and Market Basket, Barcelos Market, McDonald's, C.V.S., Thompson's, Brigham's and New England Stores. Six hundred and thirteen little monsters braved the entrance of the Haunted House this year. A big thank you to volunteers Katie Malone, Jim Centrum, John Campbell, Dana Lanio, Kathy Wesson, Steve O'Connor and Carla McQuade.

Thank You, P.A.

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I would like to take the opportunity to thank Phillips Academy for the wonderful care and concern on the part of students as well as staff members, especially Mary Minard, toward the mentally handicapped children in our community.

The programs which have been provided for these children on Tuesday evenings have brought them untold joy and friendship. The warmth, care, hospitality and friendship that these students give have provided a memorable evening every week for our children.

I just feel very lucky to have such a dedicated and responsible group of teenagers from P.A. who are giving so freely of their time as well as putting so much effort into such worthwhile activities for their community. These teenagers should be highly commended.

Thank you so much, P.A., for bringing so much sunshine into the life of my daughter, Amy.

There are still some tickets for the Andy Williams Christmas show, November 28, at the Wang Center in Boston. $35 pays for transportation and orchestra seats. Hurry, hurry, hurry!

"Harold and Maude," a film starring Ruth Gordon, will be shown today at 12:45 p.m. You are invited to the movie and, if you want to, to stay for a discussion on the "Image of Aging in Films," led by Tom Ross.

The John Wayne film, "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon," will be on the new, big-screen video at the center on Monday, Nov. 24, at 12:45 p.m. Come on down. It's free.

The next mini-clinic will be held Tuesday, Nov. 25, at Frye Circle. You do not need to be a resident of any particular housing to schedule an appointment for the clinic. Andover residents are eligible for any of the clinics, but must make appointments. The clinics are held on Tuesdays at a different place each time. Call the health department for further information and to schedule an appointment. (470-3800, ext. 255) Rudimentary testing, weight control and counselling in health matters are available at the clinics. Also referral, in the event further attention is needed. The program is free. Every Wednesday Andover's public health nurses are at the senior center from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. for blood pressure checks. No appointment is needed and it is free.

Andover Pushes Concord To Fifth O.T.

By Jay Saunders

There was a strong wind and the field was soggy as the Andover girls prepared to meet Concord-Carlisle in their semifinal match.

In the first half, with the wind at their backs, Andover pressed the attack aainst a tough defense. Concord-Carlisle was especially tenacious in midfield, denying Andover's attempts to build clean,offensive movements.

Time and again Andover forwards and midfielders had to break off their attack and mark back to help out defensively.

At the end of the half, Andover had countrolled most of the play but had been unable to score.

As the second half started, Concord-Carlisle had the advantage of the wind. However, Cheryl Crawford rallied the defense and countered the attacking pressure with DelSarto in net and Boland, Howe, Corkery and Scarbeau in front.

At the end of regulation time, the score stood at 0-0.

The first two over-time periods belonged to Andover as they continued the aggressive style they had shown in regulation. Concord-Carlisle continued a pattern of substitution that rotated fresh players in against the tough Warrior midfield and defense. Tri-captain Denise Doran led midfielders Fitzpatrick, Foster, Keene and Carothers as they fought off the Concord-Carlisle attack.

Andover continued to press forward in the next overtime periods. Attackers Ross, Habeeb, Heseltine, Petzold and Radulski's efforts fell just short of the winning goal.

In the fifth overtime period, each team could only field nine players. With just over two minutes gone, a Concord-Carlisle attacker took advantage of the slippery conditions and placed the winning goal in net.

Coach Loschi and the team—Boland, Carothers, Crawford, Doran, Habeeb, Ross, Saunders, Scareau, Murphy, DelSarto, Corkery, Heseltine, Petzold, Howe, Charland, Kachem, Pakus, Keene, Fitzpatrick, Foster, Meli and Radulski—are to be congratulated on an outstanding effort.

Warriors Win Over Tewksbury

Andover High's Golden Warriors toppled the Tewksbury Redmen Saturday afternoon putting up what Head Coach Dick Collins described as the best defensive effort in his 32 years of coaching to accomplish the win.

In edging the Redmen, 15-14 on their home field, the Warriors improved their Merrimack Valley Conference record to 6-3, while Tewksbury, super bowl participnts a year ago, dropped to 7-2.

Spotting the Redmen a 14-0 lead, the Warriors staged a comeback in which they stole the ball on eight occasions, six of them via interceptions.

Most spectacular of the interceptions was by Co-captain Rich Bourdelais who returned a Jay Rideout pass 48 yards for a touchdown.

The other Warrior touchdown was scored by John Perry who intercepted Rideout and scampered 30 yards for the score. Sub quarterback Brandon McCue passed to Perry for the two-points to make the score 14-8 just before the first period ended.

Bourdelais, who also had a fumble recovery to his credit, pulled off his interception just before the first half ended and Gus Duffy, quarterback, booted the extra point which proved to be the game winner.

Tewksbury seemed to be off and runing in this one, scoring quickly in the opening quarter.

The Redmen drove 79 yards after the opening kickoff to take a 6-0 lead with Quarterback Rideout culminating the drive, scampering three yards for the score.

Following that score, the Warriors gifted the Redmen with a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, allowing Tewksbury to initiate a scoring drive from the 34 yard line.

Rideout, who ran for 31 yards in the series that followed, scored from the one to up the score to 14-0.

From that point on the Andover defense took over and kept thc Redmen contained and confused the rest of the way.

Andover winds up its season next Thursday morning, Thanksgiving Day, hosting Lawrence Cenral Catholic in a 10 a.m. game at Lovely Stadium.

Anne Taylor Is Unanimous All-League Goalie Choice

Anne Taylor,a senior at Governor Dummer Academy, is the unanimous choice of the Independent School League soccer coaches for all-league goalie. She was also named team MVP at the Byfield school during varsity awards presentations and was named to the Newburyport Daily News all-star team. Taylor is the daughter of Mrs. Gail Taylor and John Taylor of Andover.

Courtney Seed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Seed of North Andover, was the only sophomore who received an honorable mention from the 12 ISL soccer coaches. She was also named to the Daily News all-stars.

Mike Hart, a senior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hart of Andover, received a special Coach's Award from football coach James Scheidegger as "one of the most dedicated players I've ever seen," along with his second varsity football letter.

Jeffrey Ashworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Ashworth of Andover and a senior, received his second letter as a member of the varsity men's soccer team.

This was the 50th anniversary year for men's soccer at GDA. The team produced its best record in 21 years and most wins in 25 years. The 9-4-2 season gave it a fourth-place in the 16-team ISL.

If your car displays a yellow inspection sticker with the number 11 in the center, you must have your car inspected this month, November.

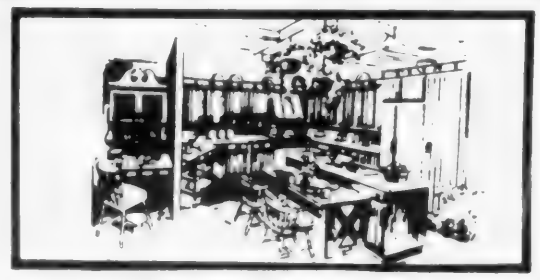

Soccer Team Undefeated

The girls' varsity soccer team at The Pike School has finished its fall schedule without a defeat. The season record was 8-0-1, under the direction of captain Robin Leary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leary, Spring Grove Road, Andover. The girls J.V. soccer team ended the season with a 4-3 record.

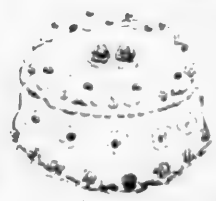

The boys' varsity soccer team has a 3-8-1 record and the J.V.'s a 6-4 record. Boys' third string soccer finished the season with three wins and four losses.

The interscholastic sports program at Pike begins in grade 6 and students compete with teams from other independent schools.

Peter Gerstberger

Places Second In State

Competing in the nationwide Coca-Cola Junior NASTAR ski racing program, Andover resident, Peter Gerstberger, placed second in Massachusetts in the 1-4 year-old-age category.

Gerstberger recorded a season best 70 handicap while racing at Crotched Mountain, N.H. to earn second place.

During the 1985-86 season, more than 140,000 young skiers raced in the Coca-Cola Junior NASTAR program at 135 ski areas in 30 states. Each racer's best handicap of the season was recorded and all participants were ranked by handicap, age and gender in each of 40 states.

The top 10 boys and 10 girls in each of six age groups will receive a certificate and patch and be listed on the Coca-Cola Junior NASTAR State Rankings Poster. First-place finishers receive a pair of I-SKI sunglasses.

"It is quite an accomplishment for these young racers to make the state rankings," said NASTAR Commissioner Bob Beattie. "Peter is one of the best recreational ski racers in Massachusetts and can be very proud of this achievement. I hope to see these young racers competing in the Olympics some day."

NASTAR's unique handicapping system, by which all participants are measured against a national standard, allows kids to win gold, silver or bronze medals depending on their individual performance in their age group. NASTAR is open to boys and girls of all abilities in the following age groups: 4 and under; 5-6; 7-9; 10-12; 13-15; 16-18.

Kinsky Paces St. Michael's

Under the direction of first-year head coach Liz Cronin, the Saint Michael's College women's soccer team posted a credible 7-8-1 overall record.

Senior midfielder Julie Kinsky of Andover was a member of the team. A speedy forwad last year, she was a top scorer for the team and suffered an injury in one of the last games of the year. She recovered and scored two goals this year and ended her career with 13-1-27 scoring totals.

"It'll be tough to replace Julie," said Cronin. "She contributed so much to the team, she was a major asset. replacing her next We'll have a hard time fall.'

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

The Andover Soccer Association's 1986 Fall Program ended last weekend. Brief results of the final games played in and out of town appear below.

Under 16 Division

Andover Cobras 4 - Saugus 0

Suzanne Gianelly scored the game winner early in the contest with a contingent from Saugus. Erin Lynch upped the score when she beat the keeper off passes from Gianelly and Bridget Murphy. Nicole Ricci made it 3-0 at the midway point when she scored on a long shot with Kathy Doran earning the assist. The Saugus defense switched tactics in the second half, allowing only one more goal kicked in by Liz Hanson on a pass from Wendy Germain to make it a 4-0 win for the Cobras. BOW: Coaches Dick Hanson and Jay Saunders.

Under 14 Division

Andover Cyclones 2 - North Andover 1

Andover Cyclones 4 - Chelmsford 1

North Andover startled the defense early in the contest to take a 1-0 lead. Darlene Prochniak kicked in the equalizer on a pass from Kerri Lynch just before the midway point. Both teams fought hard for the extra goal in the second half and the Cyclones won the victory when Laura Koerckel beat the keeper on a pass from Jennifer Butt. BOW: The entire lineup.

Chelmsford took an early lead on their home field. Butt tied it up when she scored off her own corner kick and Heather Bryce made it 2-1 at the midway point when she kicked the ball in over the keeper's outsretched hands with Joanne Morris earning the assist. The Cylcones dominated the second half. Bryce completed a hat trick, beatng the keeper twice, on passes by Patty Murphy and Leanna Mills for a satisfying 4-1 victory. BOW: Coaches Gerard Koerckel and Jay Catanzaro.

Andover Furies 0 - Woburn 1

Woburn proved to be tough competition and the name of the game was defense. Excellent goalkeping by Lindsey Sweeney and Amy Kenney held them to one successful shot on net for a hard-fought 1-0 victory. BOW: Amy Heseltine and Marcia Gemmell.

Andover Kicks 1 - Waltham 2

Waltham scored midway through the first half and added an insurance goal in the second to take a 2-0 lead. The Kicks pressed to deny the shutout and were successful when Brenda Petzold booted in a long shot which went in over the keeper's head; Amy Hayes earned the assist. BOW: Emily Curtiss, Veena Channamsetty and keeper Lisa Hayes for some excellent saves.

Andover Terminators 8 - Waltham 0

The Terminators ended the season with an 8-0 romp over a Waltham team on their home field. John Christopher Martin opened the scoring on a pass from Brendan O'Leary and made it 2-0 at the midway point when he beat the keeper off a pass from Mark Baker. The second half saw tallies by Keith Selvitelli, Matt Reghitto, Chris Zappala (2) and Wayne Mattola (2); earning assists were O'Leary, Martin, Shawn Hadley, Gus Quattlebaum, Steve Shepard and Kevin Foltz. BOW: Maurice Henderson, Scott Henry, Tim Maracle and keeper Rejji Hayes.

Under 12 Division

Andover Scorpions 0

North Andover 0

The Scorpions controlled much of the play in North Andover but were unable to score the elusive goal. When the final whistel blew, both teams had to settle for a 0-0 standoff. BOW: Coaches Mike Germain, Dave Levine and Bob Everett.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Avocado and harvest gold dinette sets and breakfast nooks and color coordinated pots and pans have come and gone. Each represented a trend in kitchen decor. Today, however, if there is a trend at all, it is the customized kitchen. It is up to the individual to analyze the needs and tastes and design a kitchen that reflects those factors. As a result of this individualistic attitude, people are making permanent changes to their kitchens. For instance, kitchens are being revamped to encompass larger areas. The cook no longer wishes to be isolated from the rest of the house. The open kitchen is but one statement that a homemaker has built around an attitude.

No matter what the economy a kitchen remodeling is always a good investment. Come to WINDSOR KITCHENS to work out a plan that will give you the most use and pleasure out of your kitchen. We offer you custom wood, custom laminated, European and traditional lines of cabinets. We do a professional job both in planning and installing. You'll have your dream kitchen when we do the work. Consult with us at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. Hours: Wed 9-8; Thursday 9 to 5:30; Friday 9 to 5:30; Saturday 10 to 2; Sun., Mon., Tues., closed or by appointment. Tel. 372-3444

Squirt A's Win Three

The Squirt A's completed a successful week of hockey, winning three games in a six-day period.

The week began with a Veteran's Day game at Merrimack College against Valley League rival Cambridge. Andover, coming off two weeks of no practice due to a change in rinks, looked rusty as Cambridge jumped to a quick 2-0 lead in the game's first two minutes. Brian Flanagan responded with two goals, the first was assisted by Rich Enos and the second by Bobby Daley. Andover took the lead in the second period when Mike Lombard scored off a pass from Timmy McGovern. Andover broke the game open in the final period with three goals; Adam Gurry, from Paul Allard and Flanagan, Lombard, from Scott Munroe, and McGovern. Daley scored the last goal, unassisted, making the final score 7-3.

Saturday morning Andover found themselves playing Cambridge again, this time in Wilmington League action at Hockeytown. Cambridge again got off to a fast 2-0 lead. Flanagan got the next two to tie the game. Both goals were assisted by Daley. Andover scored three consecutive goals in the third period: Daley, assisted by Allard; Flanagan, off a nice pass from Daley, and Flanagan, his sixth in two games, with assists going to Daley and Allard. Cambridge rallied in the final four minutes, scoring twice to make it a 5-4 game. In the game's last minute, Cambridge swarmed the Andover net, but Fred Sunderland made several key saves to preserve the win.

Sunday afternoon found Andover back at Merrimack College for a Valley League game with Peabody. Peabody scored early in the first period. The game was quickly tied by Scott Munroe off a nice feed from Allard. Peabody took a 2-1 lead into the second period. A penalty shot was awarded to Andover early in the second period because a Peabody player covered up the puck in the crease. Coach Steve Munroe went to his hot goal scorer, Flanagan, who scored to tie the game. Andover went on to score the game's next five goals: Daley, from Flanagan and Ryan Doyle; Danny Trede, unassisted; Daley, from Flanagan; Munroe, from McGovern and Lombard; Daley, from Trede and Flanagan. Sunderland was in goal for all three wins. Andover's overall record is 10-6-1.

A's Improve Record To 12-4-1

The Andover PeeWee A hockey team completed a busy week by tying Pentucket (Groveland, Merrimac, West Newbury) 2-2 at Merrimack College Monday night.

The first period was scoreless as Pentucket's goalie stopped several Andover scoring chances. Ed Thistle put Andover ahead in the second period, scoring off a scramble in front of the goal. In the third period, Pentucket tied the game 1-1 as they walked in alone on goal and scored on a backhand shot. Sean Darwin regained the lead for Andover off the ensuing faceoff as he stick-handled through the defense and fired the puck high into the net. Pentucket tied it again as Andover had difficulty clearing the puck from in front of the goal following a save.

Two late penalties forced Andover to play shorthanded. Billy Owens killed off a major portion of one penalty, exhibiting excellent skating and stick-handling. Mike Daley made two key saves; one at the buzzer to preserve the tie.

In their first regular season game in the Merrimack Valley League, the Andover PeeWee A's blasted an outmanned Haverhill squad 10-4 Friday night.

Haverhill broke around the Andover defense and lifted the puck over Mike Daley's outstretched pads to score first. With 8:02 remaining in the first period, Sean Darwin tied the game, assisted by Donnie Fraser. The Andover defense was playing exceptionally well as Todd Allard, John Constantine and Chris Pothier broke up several rushes at the blue line with sliding checks. Bob Sheehan and Mike Walsh each fired a long, clearing pass to streaking teammates resulting in goals by Darwin and Thistle. Darwin closed the first period scoring (assisted by Billy Owens and Pete O'Shea) to record a hat trick with all three goals in one period.

The second period belonged to Andover. A Haverhill skater gloved the puck in the goal crease, resulting in a penalty shot being awarded to Andover. Sean Darwin was the shooter. He picked the puck up at center ice, gathered speed and shot on net but the puck deflected off the goalie's glove and shoulder for no goal. Thistle scored his second goal (assisted by Darren Cianci and Walsh) following a Brenden Finneran shot which rang off the goal post. Darwin (assisted by Owens) added his fourth goal. The shot of the night belonged to Danny Feeley (assisted by Finneran) who rocketed a slap shot from the blue line which broke through the goalie's pads.

Haverhill came alive in the third period, scoring three times, but Andover matched them goal for goal. Excellent passing allowed Owens (assisted by Thistle and Finneran) to score with the goalie already down from an earlier fake. Joe Liguori (assisted by Thistle and Cianci) scored Andover's ninth goal before Owens closed the scoring with his second goal (assisted by Feeley) for the final 10-4 score.

Andover fell behind early in Saturday's came with Cambridge, but skated hard in the third period to post an impressive 8-3 comeback win. With regular goalie Daley unable to play, center Thistle moved into goal and did an outstanding job.

Initial Approval Accorded Industrial Subdivision Plan

Monks of the Middle Ages often spent a lifetime writing and preparing just one book, working entirely by hand.

By Susan K. O'Neill

On Nov. 12, the Planning Board voted to approve preliminary industrial subdivision plans for a location at the River Road/I 93 intersection known as the "old Wang parcel."

The vote to approve the plans for "Woodland Park" was 4 to 0, with board member Paul Curley abstaining. Curley based his abstention on the fact that, should the land be developed, it might limit a Chandler Road resident's access to his own land parcel, which he might eventually wish to sell for industrial development.

Such a limited access might further complicate an ongoing rezoning conflict between the town and Chandler Road residents.

Last year, the Board had proposed rezoning a strip of Chandler Road from industrial to residential, in order to prevent River Road industries from building access to their properties from the largely residential road, which board members and planning staff considered ill-equipped to handle heavy traffic. The proposal met with heavy opposition from the road's residents, who felt that such a zoning change would reduce the value of their land by limiting its resale potential to industries.

After much discussion, residents agreed not to allow the building of any such access for a year. In the meantime, it was understood that they would formulate a mutually-agreeable, self-imposed restriction that would provide traffic control without a zoning change.

According to board members, even though the end of that year's moratorium is in sight, the residents have not yet proposed their own restriction.

If the "old Wang parcel" is developed, Chandler Road resident Sarkis Sarkesian would be left with no potential industrial access, except through Chandler Road, to land that he now owns and might eventually wish to sell.

Curley indicated Wednesday night that, if he is still a board member when a definitive plan for development of "Woodland Park" is proposed, he will probably vote against the subdivision. "We're here to protect the town," he said, "and there are a lot of people living on Chandler Road."

Board members have not yet decided whether they will press for the rezoning again this year if residents do not reach an agreement to restrict industrial access on their own.

In separate actions, the board:

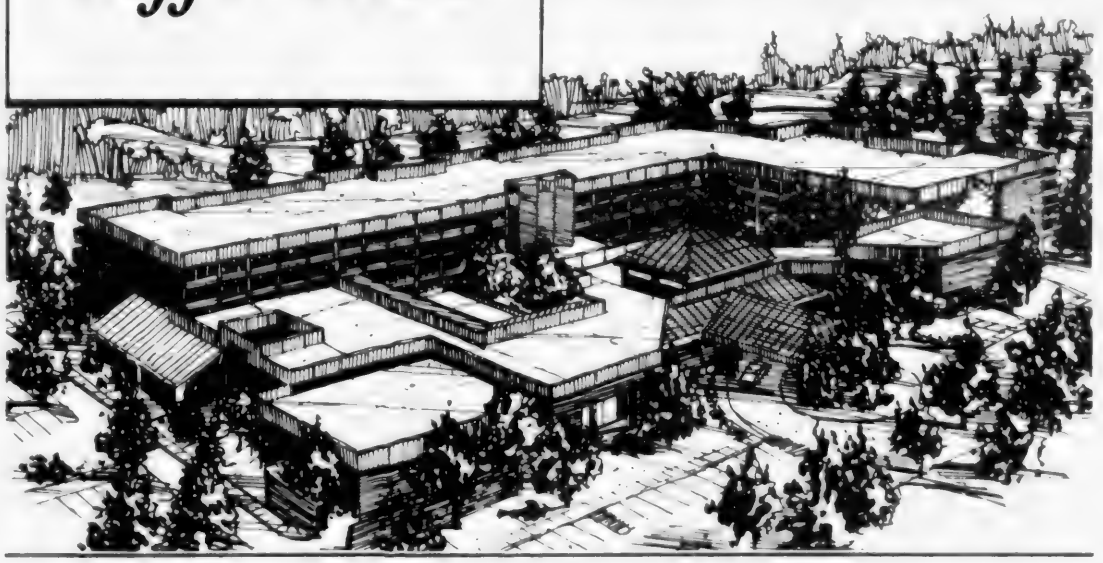

- voted 5-0 to extendthe deadline for action on definitive plans for "Quailcrest, a 65-lot subdivision planned for 85 acres off High Plains Road, to Nov. 28;
- voted 5-0 to reduce bonds on Delisio Drive and Belle Isle Way;
- continued the public hearing on changes to the Subdivision Rules and Regulations to Nov. 25;
- welcomed new board member Susan Stott, who is replacing Andrew Girdwood, to the board.

Historic Districts Explained

9 Andover St., Andover's First National Register Property

As a result of two lectures by Barbara Thibault, the Andover Historical Society's curator of education, those in attendance learned many things about historic prservation. The audience, like most people in the town, came to the lectures wanting more information about the difference between the National Register of Historic Places and Local Historic Districts.

The National Register of Historic Places is the official list of the nation's cultural resources worthy of preservation. It is administered by the National Park Service under the Secretary of Interior. Properties listed in the National Register include districts, sites, buildings, structures and objects that are significant in American history, architecture, archaeology, engineering and culture.

One can trace centuries of Andover's heritage by looking at the properties and districts designated on the National Register. The early settlement period of the 17th century is represented by the houses at 88 Lowell St. and 9 Andover St. The Central area, serving as Andover's "main street" in the 18th and 19th centuries, represents the social and religious core of the South Parish.

Following the War for Independence, Andover earned the title of "hill, mill and till.' This refers to the predominance of education, manufacturing and farming in Andover. The Academy Hill area includes the landmarks of three separate educational institutions: Phillips Academy, Andover Theological Seminary and Abbot Academy. The Andover Village industrial area marks the site of the earliest mills and now hosts a complex of industrial buildings and mill-worker housing, centering around the Shawsheen River. The West Parish center area exemplifies Andover's agricultural past with its farmhouses clustered around a church and burying ground.

The Ballardvale district illustrates the rise of manufacturing in the 19th century, whereas the Main-Locke Streets area reflects the increased commercial and residential development of the community. The Shawsheen Village district was once a company-planned community and now remains intact as a suburban neighborhood.

The National Register of Historic Places for Andover had 43 individual structures and seven districts. More information is in the 17-volume Andover Historic Building Survey prepared by the Andover Historical Commission and Massachusetts Historical Commission. It is available for use at the Underhill Research Library of the Andover Historical Soceity, 97 Main St., Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Other copies are on reserve at Memorial Hall Library, Andover Planning Board and the Massachusetts Historical Commission in Boston.

While the National Register of Historic Places recognizes the importance of Andover's historic properties, it is important to remember that it provides little or no protection of these buildings from being torn down or drastically altered. Andoverhas no local preservation ordinance nor landmark listing to keep these structures from disappearing, in spite of its residents' strong sense of history and community. One way to preserve the unique characteristics of National Register properties is to enact local historic district legislation.

Local historic districts can be established and administered by the community. A property or district can be designated as part of a National Register Historic district and as part of a local historic district. Inclusion in a local historic district provides for the review of proposed exterior changes by the local historic district commission. The responsibilities of the local historic district commission to review changes to a property are determined on the community level and are different for each local historic district.

As part of its on-going preservation programing, the Andover Historicl Society will feature Thibault on Thursday, Jan. 22, at noon speaking on the changes that have occured to Main Street. As part of their Lunch Lecture Series, visitors are encouraged to bring a lunch and hear the discussion and slide tape program.

Appointed To Direct Distribution

William C. Schwidder

William C. Schwidder has been appointed vice president and general manager of distribution services at GTE Electrical Products. Replacing Edward H. Churchill, who has retired, Schwidder will have responsibility for directing 23 distribution centers nationwide that provide services for GTE Electrical Products' lighting and precision materials operating divisions as well as GTE Suply, U.S. Sprint and other companies.

Schwidder joined GTE in 1969 with General Telephone of Michigan where he held a variety of human resources and operations positions. He became personnel supervisor at GTE Precision Materials' Muncy, Pa., facility in 1976 and later was division industrial relations manager for the same operation. He was named division industrial relations manager for U.S. Lighting Division's industrial/commercial division in 1980 and was appointed to his most recent position, director of human resources for GTE's U.S. Lighting Division, in 1982.

Schwidder has a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Wyoming.

The Schwidder family lives in North Andover.

Concert

The Putnam Court Musicians will present a concert at the Danvers Senior Center, 12 Sylvan St., Danvers, on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 2 p.m. The program is supported in part by the Massachusetts Art Lottery, as administered by the Danvers Arts Council.

Members of the group are flutist Kristin Webb, soprano Mary Sanders, harpsichordist Jeremy Adams and guitarist Russell Southcott.

Women & Joint Custody

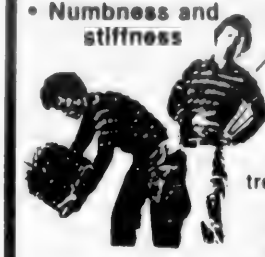

After divorce or separation, joint legal custody means that you and your husband must consult and agree on all major decisions governing your children's lives such as medical care, education and religious training. In recent years, joint legal custody has become very fashionable for separated and divorced couples because it appears to offer a way to involve both parents in their children's lives. However, joint legal custody requires you to maintain continued contact with your husband and may mean additional Court involvement in your family's life when you and your husband cannot agree.

New England Telephone Expands In Andover

The expansion of high technology firms in the Frontage Road area, coupled with commercial and condominium development at the Shawsheen Mill Complex on Haverhill Street, are two reasons why New England Telephone is in the process of placing almost five and a half miles of new telephone cable here.

NET technicians recently began placing both undergraound and aerial cable along Central Street, Dascomb Road and Andover Street to allow for line growth brought on by high tech expansion and scattered residential growth in that area.

More than one and three quarter miles of underground will be placed along North Main and Haverhill Streets to provide for steady commercial and condominium development generally centered at the Wood Mill Complex on Haverhill Street.

"Both projects," said David Ravanessi, NET public relations manager, "are the necessary responses to expansion in Andover. We constantly monitor growth in all of the areas we service in an effort to anticipate telephone service needs.

"New England Telephone is committed to providing our customers with the best possible service available," he said. "That's why we are spending $429 million in Massachusetts this year on projects like these which are designed to improve and expand our network."

NET serves aproximately 12,000 customers in Andover.

Tourney

The second Annual Cedardale-March of Dimes Open Racquet Tournament will take place at the Cedardale Athletic Club, 931 Boston St., Haverhill, December 5, 6 and 7. Non-members, as well as members, are invited to participate in tennis and racquetball mixed-doubles competition with categories ranging from novice to expert. Registration forms are available at Cedardale or at the March of Dimes-Merrimack Valley Division, 89 North Main St., Andover.

A dance will be held for all participants on Saturday evening, Dec. 6. Tennis, racquetball, dancing afford an opportunity to experience first hand the Cedardale facility and a chance to assist the March of Dimes in its mission.

Teacher Found Guilty

Andover High School Social Studies teacher Philip E. Nelson, a Wakefield resident, has been found guilty on a charge of assault and battery on a 20-year-old Belmont woman.

Associate Justice Lawrence Feloney of the Cambridge District Court sentenced Nelson to six months in prison, to be followed by a one-and-one-half year probationary period, for the incident, which occurred on Aug. 26 in the parking lot of the Belmont Country Club where the victim worked. Nelson's lawyer, Jeffrey Fisher, commented that it was a case of "unrequited love," and that his client would appeal.

Other charges stemming from the incident, including attempted kidnapping and indecent assault and battery, were dropped.

The victim, a Simmons College junior, had known Nelson for about a year before the incident, and had been dating him until some time last spring. Nelson apparently continued to telephone her and visit her place of business. The victim's boss, Joseph Kovalski, had told Nelson that he was not welcome at the club.

On the morning of Aug. 26, Nelson showed up in the lobby and insisted that the victim read a letter he had written to her and hand delivered. When the victim went outside to speak with Nelson, he struck her, knocking her down.

According to Kovalski, Nelson continued until he and another employee ran out and stopped him. Kovalski stated that the victim was found wearing only a blouse. Her skirt, which had been torn, lay beneath her, and her underwear was beside her.

According to District Attorney Elizabeth Keeley, the victim needed plastic surgery for damage done by a blow to the nose area. Fisher commented that his client had received stitches for forehead and finger wounds.

Supt, of Schools Kenneth Seifert said Nelson's future status with the Andover School System will be the subject of an executive session of the school committee, Tuesday, Nov. 25

Children's Room News
By Bridget Bennett

Maria and Jennifer Pulzetti of North Andover have been collecting bookmarks for several years and they are now on display in the Children's Room. Special "Reach for a Book" bookmarks honoring Children's Book Week (November 16-22) are available for all Children's Room patrons.

The flu and chickenpox season seems to have arrived early this year. A Getting Better Box from the Children's Room can sometimes help make the recovery period a little more pleasant. Geared for various ages and filled with a variety of books and games, these boxes may be borrowed for a week. Call the Children's Room to borrow or reserve a Getting Better Box.

Graduates

Army Private Ronald d. Melendez, son of Isabel Melendez, 29 Gibson Court, North Andover, and James L. Melendez, Lawrence, graduated from the U.S. Army material control and accounting specialist course at Fort Lee, Va.

The six-week course consisted of procedures for receiving, storing and shipping, plus preparation for storage and handling of suplies.

Melendez is a 1986 graduate of North Andover High School.

many of the rodents. Monthly treatments will follow, on into the new year.

What happens to the "common" land created by cluster zoning? Can it be successfully taxed? Who takes care of the property? These and other questions were discussed at the Planning Board meeting Monday night, when the Assessors conferred at some length with the municipal planning agency.

Nearly every home in Andover received an envelope containing the familiar Christmas Seals Monday as the annual campaign got underway.

The first major breakthrough in West Andover industrial development will be officially completed this morning, when papers are passed on 25 acres of land along Route 93, at Chandler Road.

10 year Ago — November 1976

Raytheon Co. maintains its position as the town's top taxpayer with its annual tax bill listed at $673,873.80 on property valued at $12,714,600.

A church mortgage has always been the Andover Baptist Church Fair's "Reason for Being," according to Mrs. Esther Estell, general chairman of the Bicentennial Harvest Fair to be held at the church on Saturday.

Selectmen Monday night addressed themselves to applying policy to the water rates with the policy of the town being to make the department virtually self-supporting.

Police are still seeking a motive and some leads in the mysterious murder of a 31-year-old Mrs. Sheila Sprinsky, 4 Aspen Circle, last Friday. Mrs. Sprinsky was shot twice while sitting in her kitchen, painting a ceramic piece.

Rules of order and procedure for the selectmen, proposed by Selectman Richard J. Bowen, were rebuked by his colleagues Monday night. One of three proposed rules was adopted; following some significant deletions, while two others were passed over.

Christmas lights are due to glow in the downtown area next week, but it won't be without problems. The Andover Chamber of Commerce, which underwrites the annual lighting program, is faced with some financial difficulties

Clark Chrysler-Plymouth: Reaching New Heights

Chrysler is not a company that will be caught standing still. Even if things are going well for the present, Chrysler is looking to the future, anticipating needs and working to fulfill those needs. Gene Shea, General Manager feels that they've reached new heights in the latest technology. Chrysler has invested millions in product development and improvements, and the benefits of this research is being passed on to the customer.

Clark is a third generation dealership under owner Thomas Barenboim who realizes that his customers are his neighbors, and who's main concern is satisfying those customers. Clark provides sales, service, parts, long term leasing and daily rentals.

Clark Chrysler Plymouth is proud of its cars, and is pleased to introduce the new Plymouth Sundance. A compact, front wheel drive sedan, the Sundance has had a great reception by the public in the few months since its been out. Chrysler Fifth Avenue remains as the top luxury seller, while the LeBaron GTS has been "created to outperform Europe's best at half the price. And it does." In January, Chrysler is expected to introduce a new LeBaron 2-door Coupe with all the latest styling and technology. It is also expected that a new Chrysler Coupe, along the lines of Mercedes and Jaguar, and made in conjunction with Maserati will be introduced after the first of the year.

Clark Chrysler-Plymouth also carries pre-owned cars which are fully guaranteed and which have been carefully screened to insure they meet Clark's standards. Visit Clark Chrysler-Plymouth at 273 S. Union St., Lawrence, where old time family-type dealership combines with high tech 80's automobiles to give you the best deal around. Open 8-9 Monday through Friday, Saturday 8-5. Phone 688-6053.

Imagine That: Flowers and Gifts For The Holidays

Gift giving time is approaching and many of the people on your list would be delighted if you started your shopping at Imagine That. Imagine That is first and foremost a florist, and with Thanksgiving just a week away they can provide you with a perfect centerpiece or lavish fruit basket. If you can't make it home for Thanksgiving, consider a Teleflora Country Casserole Bouquet, a bouquet of Autumn flowers in a beautiful oven-to-table baking dish. Or choose a Teleflora Harvest Basket Bouquet made with a woven wood basket. After Thanksgiving your thoughts may turn to poinsettias and Christmas cactus, both of which can be found at 24 Chestnut St., Andover. Imagine That's wire service insures that even distant relatives and friends get your flowers on time.

December brides might consider the personal service Imagine That Florist provides for weddings. They'll stay with the bride from her house, to church, to the reception to insure that everything goes right. If you're looking to brighten up a room, bring your swatches to Imagine That and they'll custom design a silk flower arrangement for you. If you prefer to do it yourself, they offer 5 week courses in floral arranging.

Balloons provide a lift for any occasion and you'll find them in abundance at Imagine That. Their long lasting balloons can be found in bouquets and with fruit baskets. A teddy bear tied to a rainbow of balloons makes a delightful gift for a new mother. They carry novelty items for children and babies, and for the older crowd there's a selection of applique hoops and wall hangings. In short, there's something for everyone — imagine that! Open 9-5:30 Mondaythrough Saturday. Open Sundays 1-5:30 during December. Phone 475-8593.

Fr. McNulty Scholarship Permanently Endowed

Rev. James McNulty

A December 7 reception will celebrate and formally establish the Rev. James McNulty Memorial Scholarship at Merrimack College.

Friends of the late Augustinian priest began raising funds for the scholarship five years ago and have awarded scholarships to eight Merrimack students. J. Timothy Samway, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced that this past summer's fundraising appeal raised the remaining money needed to permanently endow a fund to enable the awarding of a $1,000 scholarship every year in Fr. McNulty's memory.

Rev. John E. Deegan, O.S.A., president of Merrimack College, will host the reception in the Arundel Room of McQuade Library from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. A memorial plaque listing the names of all contributors will be unveiled. All family, friends and contributors are invited.

Recipients of the one-year, non-renewable scholarship are chosen on the basis of need and merit and must be parishioners of St. Augustine Parish in Andover. St. Augustine's and Merrimack College are staffed by the Order of St. Augustine. The son of Mr and Mrs. Francis McNulty of Andover, Fr. McNulty was a nationally-known author and expert in preaching and retreat work.

This year's recipient is Chantal S. Pierrat, 48 Farrwood Drive, Andover, a freshman.

Hearing Will Be Second On Petition For Riding Facility

The Zoning Board of Appeals will give one recent petition a second hearing and give a first hearing to two others when the board meets in the School Committee conference room, School Office Building, second floor, Whittier St. entrance, on Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7 p.m.

Richard A. Donovan, Ironstone Farm, 456 Lowell St., has re-submitted his petition which had been withdrawn from the board without prejudice. This allows him to have another hearing before the usual two-year waiting period.

The original petition was for permission to construct an indoor riding facility approximately 120 feet wide, 220 feet long and 30 feet high. The new petition asks for a special permit to continue the operation of a commercial riding stable including the keeping or boarding of six or more horses, regardless of ownership, in addition to the construction of the indoor facility.

Augustine L. Colangelo, Trustee of Colonial Drive Realty Trust, is petitioning the board for an amendment to decision #842 (1968) by deleting condition #4 which sets forth the basis upon which the premises may be mortgaged. The petition is in reference to the Colonial Drive Apartments, located near the North Reading line.

The petitioner would like permission to put mortgage financing on individual buildings rather than on the entire parcel of land. In the decision of 1968, (#842), the zoning board allowed 154 apartment units to be built on approximately 18 acres near the junction of routes 28 and 125, with one of the conditions being that if ever necessary, the entire project, not individual units, could be mortgaged.

The conversion of a single family dwelling at 11 High St. to a two-family structure is the object of a petition submitted by Robin A. and Jean A. Neill and Francis A. Hebb.

The application cites a portion of the by-law which allows such conversion of homes built prior to 1941, as long as they can devote at least 2500 square feet of space per family. It also states that the conversion would not substantially affect the character of the area and that at least one off-street parking space could be allotted per family.

of goods to include larger equipment including computers.

Bloom also sees the possibility of adding a small amount of space to the rear of Andover Liquor to allow them a more suitable storage area.

Bloom commented that he believed that the addition of 75 parking spaces would be more than sufficient in light of the fact that only 8,000 additional square feet of building space is planned.

Boy Scouts Participate In Good Turn Project

Scouts throughout the North Essex Council will spread the word about the need for donated human tissue and organa.

Local youths will join thousands of other Scouts across the nation taking part in this Presidential Good Turn. On February 3, President Reagan officially requested the Boy Scouts of America to conduct this Good Turn during 1986.

Nationally, the Good Turn will be carried out from October through December. Locally, the program will kick off November 20 and run through Thanksgiving Day.

The program is being conducted nationwide in cooperation with the American Council on Transplantation, an umbrella organization of some 70 health-related agencies.

"Public awareness is the key to our effort," said Dr. Donald C. Waugh, medical director at AT&T's Merrimack Valley works. Members of Scout troops, Varsity Scout teams and Explorer posts will contact neighbors in their communities on November 22 to meet with them about the need for tissue and organ donation and leave donor cards for followup action.

"Through this process, we hope to encourage families in the North Essex Council to discuss this need and consider their own involvement, especially the importance of making other family members aware of their wishes. This program is particularly timely because it occurs during Thanksgiving week," said Waigh. A congressional task force has released a report showing that 17,000 Amrican lives were lost in 1985 due to a shortage of donated tissue and organs.

Scout representativee will also speak to local groups and youth members will set up booths at Bon Secours and Lawrence General hospitals. Other local activities include displays at Raytheon's Andover plant and AT&T's Merrimack Valley Plant.

"Because certain religious beliefs discourage or prohibit giving or receiving human tissues and organs, participation in the Good Turn is strictly voluntary," Waugh said. "Unit leaders have made their own decisions about taking part."

For additional information, contact the Council Service Center, 430 North Canal St., Lawrence.

Exhibit

The Howard Kline Gallery, 150 Upper Main St., Rockport, will have its annual holiday exhibition and sale of artwork by Howard Kline on Saturday, Nov. 29, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 30, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

"Nutcracker"

Boston Ballet celebrates the holiday season in New England with the magic of "The Nutcracker" at the Wang Center for the Performing Arts in Boston December 4 through January 4.

"The Nutcracker" was first choreographed in 1892 by Marius Petipa and Lev Ivanov. Petipa, choreographer to the Russian court during the latter half of the 19th century, singlehandedly raised the standard of Russian ballet. Ivanov is considered a major precursor of modern ballet, literally and figuratively bridging the gap between the romanticism of Petipa and the vivid expression of Fokine.

Boston Ballet's first "Nutcracker" production as in December 1964, staged by founder E. Virginia Williams after the original Ivanov-Petipa choreography.

The Hawkswood Estate at Point Shore:

Incomparable Elegance

At An Understated Price

We have something splendid here
A private and very special place
A haven on a ten-acre penninsula overlooking one of New England's great rivers and 450 protected acres where eagles, heron and osprey come to nest.

Most emphatically, these dwellings are not the typical "condo," the smallish place one settles for when his "real" home becomes too much of a bother. No, these are 2,500 to 3,500 square foot units— elegant, spacious, secure and private

Very, very private

The Estate contains only 18 homes, all on the waterfront

The final three units are now available. We believe the quality of the construction, amenities and materials— even to the smallest details— cannot be approached anywhere on the North Shore at this price

The interiors are exquisitely appointed: Italian marble in the foyer and bath; a grand turning staircase leading to the second floor: Jennaire Amana, Beckermann, and Grohe in the kitchen

Garages for your cars and a dock for your boats. Professionally maintained grounds. Services of an interior designer, at no charge, for help in the completion of the decor.

And so on

You may look upon Hawkswood as a vacation home that you're fortunate enough to live in year round

Or as one of the last remaining gracious havens within the North Shore, yet only minutes from downtown Newburyport

Or as an attractive alternative to paying up to twice as much for not as much in one of the better parts of, say, Boston

At any rate, if you're prepared to invest between $385,000 and $465,000 to fulfill a slightly immodest dream, we would be happy to arrange a private showing of our furnished model unit

The sales office is open Wednesday through Friday from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m., or by appointment. For additional information call (617) 975-[illegible]

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

REALTOR

BUY, REHAB AND SELL

There are many who have pyramided money by buying homes that need a lot of work, rehabbing them in their spare time and reselling the improved project at a nice profit...nice enough to move up to a similar but bigger project in another location.

Many different types of skills are frequently involved in residential rehab work, such as plumbing, carpentry, electrical, roofing, painting and landscaping. In addition, familiarity with accounting, law, management, financial and negotiating practices are important. You may be skilled in some of these areas. Where you lack the needed skills, do what you can do and hire qualified people to handle the rest.

An experienced Realtor can help you inventory your skills and can suggest local contractors and professionals to fill any gaps. If you take the time to research, plan and work with a professional agency, you should be able to develop a realistic initial rehab investment program. Most of those starting out, live in the property while they are fixing it up

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Wanda Farr
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

IT'S EASY TO FIND A BUYER!

You've decided to sell your home by yourself, and soon you find someone who appears to be willing and able to buy it. You agree on a price, shake hands, arrange another meeting to work out the details, and take your family out to dinner to celebrate! That was easy, wasn't it?

But now come the details. That's when you begin to appreciate how complex the sale of a home can be. Does the stationery shop contract form include the necessary disclosures for water quality, soil type, airport location or other information mandated by the state or local laws? What about closing costs, such as loan points or local taxes? How much will they be and how will they be shared by buyers and sellers? Do you have the addendums for FHA or VA loans? What about structural inspections? Agreeing to the crucial terms is just the beginning! Who will do the title search and settlement? How do you set up an escrow account for the good faith deposit, and who keeps the money if the sale falls through?

Some people can sell their homes without the assistance of a Realtor, but if you want to insure that the sale of your home runs smoothly without any unforseen problems, we recommend using a professional Realtor. Contact one of the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our office at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Seifert Wants System To Prepare Pupils Properly

By Karen L. Day

At the outset of the Superintendent of Schools' budget presentation to the School Committee for the 1987-1988 school year, Tuesday evening, Kenneth Seifert commented, "I do not believe we are preparing (our students) properly."

With that statement, he presented a budget message, a statistical explanation of "where the money goes," and a history of how the Andover schools have been functioning.

In his budget message, Seifert stated that although Andover students recently placed in the 95th percentile against other communities of the same socio-economic status, it is not enough. According to Seifert, this type of testing only analyzes a student's level of simple recall and comprehension, not thinking skills. "We can get lulled into a complacency if we make more out of this than it is."

The Andover school system spends $3,092 per pupil, while the state average is slightly higher, at a rate of $3,143. According to Seifert, Andover has spent dollars per student about equal with the state average for the last 30 years. One-hundred-fifty school systems spend more money per student than Andover, while 175 spend less.

Several points, to Andover's credit, were mentioned during the presentation. Foremost is the fact that 76.7 percent of the education dollar goes directly into the classroom, versus a state average of 68.6 percent.

Since the 1982-1983 school year, the Andover schools have been able to maintain student/teacher ratios within, and sometimes below, the target range set by the School Committee. About the ratios, Seifert commented, "I think this is terrific, actually....This was very deliberate."

Andover does fall surprisingly short in some areas, particularly in the spending of money for textbooks, equipment and staff development as well as curriculum revision. Although Seifert stated that the monetary figures could well be arbitrary, the chart did show great difference between Andover spending in these areas and the state average.

Citing the fact that most will change careers two or three times during life and that Andover falls behind in the area of computer education, Seifert commented, "About 4800 students are not engaged in appropriate education."

The Administration's suggestions, initiatives and budget proposals are reviewed in another article in this week's TOWNSMAN.

Lot Sells For $2.4M

A 1.89 acre lot, located at 12 Railroad Ave., has just sold for nearly $2.5 million.

A & M Realty Trust owned the property, and listed it for sale with Royal Realty of Methuen.

Tina Habeeb, president of Royal Realty, worked along with the buyer, MTM Trust of Wellesley, for several years in order to obtain permits to allow 70 residential units to be built on the site which is serviced by all utilities.

Including only land and permit expenses, the property cost the developer $35,000 per unit, for a total of $2,450,000. There is no added cost for new roads since the property already will have adequate access from Railroad Ave., according to Habeeb.

Habeeb commented that the land is located in an industrial district, but the developer is being allowed to build a residential structure of five stories because the lot is abutted by one residential and one mixed-use structure.

No further details regarding MTM Trust's development of the property are readily available as definitive plans have not yet been finalized.
